FIRE DESTROYS "FAUNA FLORA," COUNTY RESORT

Liquor Carried From Frame Building on Manchester Road—Sheriff Lends His Auto "as Favor."

WAS OPERATED BY MARK GUMBERTS

Place Formerly Was Scene of Chicken Dinner Parties Early in Evening and of Gambling at Later Hours.

The 12-room frame building known as Fauna Flora, a notorious road house operated by Mark Gumberts on the Manchester road near the North and South Roads, in St. Louis County, was destroyed by a fire which was discovered at 8:10 a. m. today.

This is the second law-evading St. Louis County resort destroyed by fire in the last three months, the other having been Campbell's Forest home at Richmond Heights, which was burned Dec. 3.

The fire at Fauna Flora was discovered by Nick B. Scheiker, a milk-er employed there. He saw flames coming from the roof of the kitchen, where breakfast was being cooked for the manager, Max Betters, who was in the dining room.

Bettors aroused Gumberts, who was asleep on the second floor. Gumberts had time to dress before he left the building, as did also Sam Creveling, the night watchman, who had retired.

Servant Taken Down Ladder. A woman about 25 years old, who was said not to be a servant, also left the building, and was taken away in an automobile. Her name was not made known.

Lula Blount, a negro servant, remained in the building until it was necessary for Clayton firemen to carry her down a ladder.

Bottles of whisky and other liquors were carried from the building. Gumberts said these were his private stock and he had not been selling liquors since prohibition went into effect.

Sheriff Bopp arrived at the fire with the firemen. When a Post-Dispatch reporter arrived there he found the Sheriff's automobile loaded to its capacity with articles which had been taken from the burning building. These were covered with carpets and rugs. Sheriff Bopp said the automobile contained clothing, evened up to a suit, and he was sending it "downtown" in his machine as a favor to Gumberts.

Some of the furniture, including three pianos, was taken from the building. One of the pianos was left to burn in the building and it burned later. The laundry and electric light plant, one-story frame buildings, also burned, but the stable and garage did not.

Water 2500 Feet Away. Gumberts said the furniture was not insured. He valued it at $3000. The building was owned by Mrs. Mathilda Linck of Brentwood, who formerly operated the resort as "The Chicken Farm."

Firemen found lack of water a handicap in fighting the fire. The nearest plug was 2500 feet away and the pressure was not sufficient to carry the water to the building. Two cisterns on the grounds were dry and filled with rubbish.

Fauna Flora had been operated by Gumberts since 1908. Before that it had gained notoriety under other management as "The Chicken Farm." Sitting back from the Manchester road just west of Brentwood, "Fauna Flora" presented a fascinating picture to passing motorists at night with its hundreds of vari-colored incandescent lights illuminating a private roadway leading to the "clubhouse."

Two Classes of Business. In its days of greatest prosperity Fauna Flora was a popular resort with two widely different classes. In the early evening hours persons of respectability would go there and eat fried chicken on the broad verandas of the clubhouse. After 11 p. m. another class of customers would transform the place into scenes of wild revelry. This early morning gaiety caused many protests from residents of Brentwood.

The Post-Dispatch in 1915 published the fact that a crane game for high stakes was being conducted at Fauna Flora. Many raids have been made on the place. Bartenders have been fined for selling intoxicants there, but in all the years of his ownership Gumberts escaped criminal prosecution though he was cited into court several times to show cause why the resort should not be suppressed.

WILSON'S NOTE ON ADRIATIC EXPECTED TO END 'ARGUMENT'

Washington Believes Reply Will Be Received From Allies, and Settlement Effected.

PRESIDENT ADHERES TO THE "14 POINTS"

Communication Said to Insist Any Agreement Not Based on Self-Determination Cannot Be Accepted.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The position of the American Government on the Adriatic settlement has been made so plain in President Wilson's reply to the allied note that administration officials believe the way to further argument on the subject virtually has been closed.

It was said, however, that by this they did not mean that the door to further exchanges had been shut. A reply to the President's latest communication is anticipated, and a final agreement between the great powers on the question expected.

The President throughout the exchanges now in progress is understood to have made it perfectly clear that the United States cannot accept the settlement reached by the allied Premiers and concurred in by Italy and which was made the subject matter of the ultimatum to Jugo-Slavia last month. He also is said to have made it equally clear that enforcement of the Adriatic terms of the secret treaty of London would be wholly unacceptable to the United States.

The President's note still is being studied by Acting Secretary Polk and it was said at the State Department that it would not be dispatched before tomorrow.

It was stated officially that the question of giving publicity to the exchanges would wait on the delivery of the President's note and the acquiescence of the other Governments.

Position Not to Be Changed. Future negotiations, according to the informal views of officials, cannot alter the fundamentals of the position taken by this country, based, as it is, on the principles enunciated in President Wilson's 14 points and accepted by the allies. The change in the status quo caused by D'Annunzio's coup at Fiume, it was said, could not alter the right of the matter.

When the reply is put into diplomatic form, it will be sent to President Wilson for approval before being coded for transmission.

Suggestions coming from Europe that the content of the allies in approaching a settlement of the Adriatic situation without participation of the United States might be attributed to a desire for speed and a consideration of the necessary delay in cable exchanges between Washington and the Entente capitals were given only passing attention here.

Agreement on Negotiations.

It was recalled that when the American peace delegates left Paris for home in December there was an agreement that questions remaining to be settled would be adjusted through the Entente foreign offices and the American State Department. The allies continued to be reached by their Premiers and Ambassadors. Wallace was present as an observer for the American Government, but the understanding here was that the supreme council as such ceased to exist.

From the allied viewpoint it is said the seizure of Fiume by D'Annunzio has created a changed situation in the Adriatic and that speedy settlement which would eliminate him without a resort to force was desirable.

It is understood that this view is not held here. It is said that a temporary impediment should not weigh against the fundamental principle of self-determination. In the opinion here the problem resulting from D'Annunzio's seizure of Fiume will in time solve itself through the natural operation of economic forces.

The allied note was delivered to President Wilson after it reached the State Department Wednesday and he spent the late afternoon and evening in a careful study of it. Yesterday he summoned his confidential secretary and dictated the reply.

Reply Finished in Two Hours. Completed transcript was delivered to Acting Secretary Polk within two hours.

Neither White House nor State Department officials would say how long the document was, but it is believed that it is shorter than his previous note, which contained something like 4000 words, about the same number as was in the allied communication.

Constantine A. Chelkess, official representative of Albania, issued a statement attacking the proposed Adriatic settlement agreed upon by the allied Premiers in which he said the fate of Albania was "deeply involved."

"It is shocking," he said, "that Great Britain, France and Italy seem to have resolved to settle the Albanian problem in a manner which can find its only parallel in the partition of Poland at the end of the eighteenth century."

"The actual fact is that in the memorandum of Jan. 29, which was handed as an ultimatum to Jugo-Slavia, Albania is completely dismembered in favor of Italy, Serbia and Greece."

Principal Quits High School to Enter Business

C. B. Curtis Joins Department Store Staff—Pay Increases, but He Says There Are Other Reasons.

The resignation of Chester B. Curtis as principal of Central High School, in order to accept a business offer, has called the attention of the school authorities anew to the need for more adequate salaries, to retain the most able members of the teaching force.

Principal Curtis, who has served 20 years at Central, the first eight as instructor in physics and chemistry, and assistant principal, will leave his school work Tuesday, to become director of personnel for a downtown department store. His salary as principal has been $4200 a year. His salary in his new position has not been announced, but is known to be more than $5000, which is the salary of an assistant superintendent of schools, and less than $8000, which is the salary of the Superintendent of Schools.

Similar Washington Case.

A similar change, announced recently, was the withdrawal of Dean A. S. Langsdorf of the Washington University Engineering School, who withdrew to take a technical position with a manufacturing concern.

Principal Curtis, in speaking to a Post-Dispatch reporter of his withdrawal from the teaching profession, said he had made no complaint as to his school salary, but that an increased income would result from the change.

"I hope to work in a broader way," he said. "I will be in a large family of adults, rather than children. My business will be not selling goods, but working with the spirit, which is the newest factor in business life. So far as I know, my new position is the first of its exact kind to be established in this city."

Terms Very Commending.

In his letter to the Superintendent Withers of his decision, Prof. Curtis says he has been invited to his new connection "on terms so satisfactory as to be commanding." In

He has forced the Republican party to take an attitude of sharp opposition to his recommendations in order to protect the independence and to promote the highest interests of the people of the United States, as well as to open the way to the adoption of a real, instead of an illusory, plan for securing the peace of the world.

REPUBLICANS OF NEW YORK MAKE ISSUE OF TREATY

Cuba, on Jan. 23, 1917, known as the recommendations of Havana.

"The chief enemy of democracy based upon universal suffrage and majority rule, no longer is the arbitrary government of a monarch or of a hereditary aristocracy, but the cruel and relentless domination of a class bent not upon protecting liberty and equality of opportunity, but upon exploiting all who are not of their own kind and group. We support and urge the most vigorous measures to prevent by education the spread in this country of the doctrines of this dangerous and undemocratic movement."

"We earnestly urge upon the Legislatures of those states that have not yet acted on the pending amendment to the Constitution of the United States that they promptly ratify in order that women generally may participate in the elections to be held in November next for President, Vice President, the Senate and House of Representatives."

"The wage worker is entitled, as a human being, to proper wages, reasonable hours and healthful conditions of labor, and to share in determining the circumstances under which his personal co-operation shall be given. The strike is a weapon of industrial war and should be made increasingly unnecessary and infrequent by the better organization of industry and by the establishment of a commission or commissions on industrial relations."

"Increased production, stimulation of enterprise, checking of private extravagance and waste, and the reduction of public expenditures are a national necessity. Our system of taxation and of business regulation should be immediately revised, with the definite purpose to promote rather than to prevent enterprise and production."

"We urge the prompt passage of legislation to authorize a national budget."

Protection and Railroads. "The principle of protection must be retained as a national policy not only for use in maintaining American standards of labor and industry but in order to insure the nation's economic independence."

"We are absolutely opposed to Government ownership of the railroads and to the so-called plan for their management. The transportation of the country should be privately-owned, and privately-managed under strict Government regulation."

"We think that both the national defense and proper care for our foreign commerce require a merchant marine of the best type of modern ship flying the American flag, manned by American seamen, owned by private capital and operated by private energy."

"We charge that the Federal Trade Commission, as at present constituted, has deliberately prostituted its proper function."

"We are opposed to a large army of professional soldiers. We favor the Democratic policy of a small standing army, with a trained citizen reserve."

"The platform calls attention to the election of a Republican Congress in 1918 over the President's appeal for the election of men of his own party."

"Still the President persisted in his course," the platform says. "Both in his conduct of the peace negotiations abroad and in his advocacy here at home of ratification by the Senate of his own individual work, he has assumed a purely personal and parti-separate letter to the Board of Education he speaks of Central High School as "mother of men and of schools, source of inspiration and home of democracy."

Assistant Principal David H. Wier will take Prof. Curtis' place, pending a permanent appointment.

Prof. Curtis says he is "a little over 50 years old." He was in the Dartmouth College class of '89, and came to Central High School from Cornell University, where he had been an instructor in chemistry. He has held executive offices in State and national teachers' organizations. He has given diplomas to about 1500 pupils. He has been actively interested in school athletics and introduced the Greek games in the Municipal High School, given last summer and the summer before. He was vice chairman of the school committee of the Junior Red Cross.

He has forced the Republican party to take an attitude of sharp opposition to his recommendations in order to protect the independence and to promote the highest interests of the people of the United States, as well as to open the way to the adoption of a real, instead of an illusory, plan for securing the peace of the world.

BRIEF UPHOLDING PROHIBITION FILED BY SOLICITOR-GENERAL

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Validity of the Federal prohibition constitutional amendment was defended in a brief filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Solicitor-General King in support of motions already made by the Government for the dismissal of original proceedings instituted by Rhode Island to test the amendment and enjoin its enforcement.

"The control or prohibition of the liquor traffic, the brief said, is a legitimate governmental function. It can not now be maintained, as a legal proposition, that such prohibition infringes the rights of the individual."

"The right to prohibit such traffic was a part of the powers which the states had when they framed the Constitution of the United States. It is a part of the powers which the states, at that time, reserved to themselves; and it is no more sacred than any power then reserved."

"The right of Congress to submit amendments cannot depend upon whether the proposed change is slight or grave. Every State in the Union is a party to the agreement that whatever change in the Constitution is proposed by Congress as presented, and is adopted by the legislatures of three-fourths of the number, shall be thus adjudged to be a proper and needed amendment."

NO AGREEMENT WITH BRITAIN ON SHIPS, WILSON SAYS

Tells Senate Proposed Agreement at Paris Provided That Allied Countries Should Keep Vessels Captured.

EACH TO DISPOSE OF OWN PRIZES AT WILL

Pact Also Bars Claim for Additional Share When Seized Tonnage Exceeds War Losses of Nation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—President Wilson in reply to Senator Brandegee's resolution, informed the Senate today that he had not entered into any agreement or understanding with officials of Great Britain concerning the sale of former German liners seized in American ports nor had he entered into any agreement or understanding with respect to what disposition should be made of them by the United States.

At the same time he transmitted to the Senate a copy of a "proposed agreement between the allied and associated Governments at Paris under which each is to retain as its own 'the complete title to and use of all ships captured, seized or detained during the war and the reduction of armaments without sacrificing the honor of country and American ideals to a false and harmful form of internationalism.'"

This agreement further provides that in case the ships so retained by any allied or associated Government are in excess of the claims of such Governments for war losses in merchant ships such Government shall not make a claim for a share of other ships ceded under the treaty of peace.

Ships so ceded will be distributed among the other Governments on the basis of ton for ton and class for class of the ships lost and not replaced by the enemy vessels seized or captured by them during the war.

It also provides that since the ships to be retained by the United States, Brazil, China, Cuba and Siam would exceed their claims for merchant tonnage lost, the commission shall determine a reasonable value of the excess and that those countries shall pay such sums to the commission for the credit of Germany in making reparation for war losses of merchant ships.

No Authority to Ratify Congress. The President said that while he felt confident that Congress would make the disposal of the funds to which he had agreed he had no authority to bind it to that act, "but that he believed that the same view in the matter that is taken by the joint signatories of this agreement."

The Senate Commerce Commission today ordered favorable report on the proposed bill providing for the sale of the 30 former German passenger liners except as may hereafter be provided by Congress.

Hearings on the proposed sale of 20 German ships were transferred from the Senate to the House Merchant Marine Committee to hear from Vice Chairman Stevens who disagreed with fellow members of the Shipping Board as to the advisability of disposing of the craft.

HOUSE COMMITTEE APPROVES PLAN TO TRAIN YOUTHS

Three Democrats and Eight Republicans Unite to Obtain Its Indorsement as Permanent Military Policy.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The principle of universal military training as a part of the nation's future military policy was approved today by the House Military Committee by a vote of 11 to nine.

This means that the committee's army reorganization bill will contain a general training provision. Details have not yet been worked out, but it was decided that the training proposal would become effective July 1, 1922.

Vote Independently. The vote in the committee was not along party lines, three Democrats joining with eight Republicans to put the training plan through. Four Republicans and five Democrats opposed it. Those voting for general training were Kahn, California; Green, Vermont; Crago, Pennsylvania; Sanford, New York; Miller, Washington; Meritt, Pennsylvania; James, Michigan; and Fuller, Massachusetts. Republicans, and Caldwell, New York; Olney, Massachusetts; and Fisher, Tennessee, Democrats.

Those opposing were Anthony, Kansas; McKenzie, Illinois; Hull, Iowa; and Kearns, Ohio, Republicans; and Dent, Alabama; Fields, Kentucky; Quinn, Mississippi; Wise, Georgia; and Harrison, Virginia, Democrats.

Final action by the committee followed a three-hour executive session in which debate at times became very sharp. So varied were opinions as to the details of the plan and to "own the same free from any details were worked out."

The preponderant view of the supporters, however, was said to have favored the training of all youths of 19 years for three or four months. Some supporters suggested six months, and varied opinions were given as to exemptions, vocational training and other questions.

Details to Subcommittee. Finally the committee decided that the details would be left to a subcommittee, composed of Representatives Kahn, Anthony, McKenzie, Greene, Dent, Fields and Caldwell, four of whom voted against the principle of training. Before reaching this decision, however, effort was made to have the reorganization bill merely provide for the appointment of a commission of three members of the House, three of the Senate and three of the Executive branch to work out general plans. Three of the supporters of general training—Representatives James, Sanford and Caldwell—refused to approve this, as did the nine opponents of training. Consequently the proposal was rejected 12 to 8.

Some committee members indicated that the fight for this plan would be renewed in the subcommittee.

By its action, the committee revived the universal training question, apparently dead since the recent Democratic caucus won on record as opposed to any training plan. The committee action made certain that the training fight would be carried into the House, as well as into the Senate.

Poland's Peace Program Will Be Given to Allies First.

By the Associated Press.

WARSAW, Feb. 20.—Poland's peace program to be submitted to the Russian Soviet Government is nearing completion and will be communicated to France and England for approval before being dispatched to Moscow. Premiers Millerand of France and Lloyd George of Great Britain have already been consulted in consideration of the chief points under consideration.

It is expected an answer will be sent the Bolsheviks by March 1, but possibly it will be postponed a few days longer. An extraordinary commission is framing the proposals to be made and will outline its plan to the Polish Diet on Feb. 23.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

WILSON ASKED FOR RECALL OF GREY'S SECRETARY

Major C. K. C. Stuart Had Been Accused of Casting Aspersions Upon Member of President's Household.

FIRST CAME UP WHEN HE WAS WITH READING

Major Came Back With Grey, When President Acted in Matter; Accused Man Denies Stories.

By DAVID LAWRENCE, A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—I am able to present in this article the facts about a sensational episode in diplomacy which may shed some light on the relations between Viscount Grey and President Wilson and may explain the undertone of irritation which some people have professed to see recently in Anglo-American relations.

For the fact is that President Wilson asked for the recall of Maj. C. K. Crauford Stuart, personal secretary of Viscount Grey, and failed to get his wish.

No one but the President can say whether it had anything to do with the fact that Lord Grey was not recalled at the White House. Doubtless the President's physicians prevented it. But people familiar with what happened are surmising that the controversy over Maj. Stuart's status did disturb good feeling between the British embassy and the White House.

It was more than a year ago when Maj. Stuart first made remarks on social occasions which were derogatory to the President of the United States. He was at the time Military Secretary for Lord Reading, head of the British War Mission in the United States and British Ambassador.

Secretary Lansing was so disturbed by Maj. Stuart's behavior that he asked that Maj. Stuart be sent home. The personal secretary of the American Government.

Appealed to Lansing. Maj. Stuart himself appealed to Secretary Lansing to be permitted to stay, saying the stories were untrue. Lord Reading was soon to depart anyway, and Maj. Stuart went home with him just before the peace conference at Paris began.

Secretary Lansing had acted of his own initiative in the matter and thought he had made his views sufficiently known to the British Government when, to his surprise, the same Maj. Stuart came back to the United States as the personal secretary of Viscount Grey.

The very first time the distinguished British statesman visited the Department of State, he was apprised of the previous incident concerning his personal secretary, which it was supposed he had learned from the British Foreign Office, but no formal request was made that Maj. Stuart be sent home.

Out of a clear sky came an instruction, however, from President Wilson concerning Maj. Stuart, and Secretary Lansing promptly transmitted it to Viscount Grey. The latter wanted to know the reasons for the request. At first they were not given, inasmuch as our Government properly contended that in diplomacy when a person becomes "non grata" that is all that is necessary.

For instance, before any American Ambassador can be received in Great Britain or France or Italy, or anywhere else, our Government must first inquire if the individual is personally satisfactory to the head of the foreign state. Sometimes a speech made by an Ambassador or his personal attitude toward another country expressed among his friends is sufficient to bar him.

The judge in each case is the Government receiving the Ambassador. And in diplomacy every member of the staff of a diplomat is subject to the same rules.

Nevertheless, the Department of State did transmit its reasons, and while it is not necessary to go into detail, it is a fact that Maj. Stuart was accused of casting aspersions on a member of President Wilson's own household.

He denied the charges. Our Government repeated its demand that Maj. Stuart be sent home. The case rested now on objections not merely of the Secretary of State but a separate set of charges which had made him undesirable so far as the President of the United States was concerned.

Ordinarily a request of this sort from the President to a foreign Ambassador would be granted at once. But Maj. Stuart stayed on for at least two months after that. He went home with Viscount Grey. While the latter was in the United States, Maj. Stuart had charge of the Ambassador's affairs, and while it is true that he was not on the diplomatic list nor in the British diplomatic service, our Government contended that he was a member of the Ambassador's household and as such subject to the supervision or authority at least of the British Ambassador. So Maj. Stuart was not sent home and Viscount Grey was not recalled.

POLITE HIGHWAYMEN TELL TWO GIRLS NOT TO GET FRIGHTENED

"Don't Tell the Police," One Requests. After Searching Their Handbags and Taking Nothing.

Two conversational highwaymen stopped the Misses Pearl and Madeleine Williams, 4459 Enright avenue, in front of 4400 Enright avenue at 9:45 o'clock last night. Both were well dressed, about 22 years old and carried revolvers.

"Don't get frightened now," the spokesman warned the girls. "We need the money."

Then they searched the girls' handbags. They found nothing of value. "That beats all. Not a cent," the youth remarked.

"Let's go," replied his companion. To the girls the leader remarked, "Don't tell the police. We're strangers here and we are just looking for a little change. Get home as soon as you can and keep quiet."

The men ran one way and the girls another.

ST. LOUISANS IN CONGRESS DIVIDED ON RAILROAD BILL

Newton Favors It, Igou Against It. While Dyer's Mind Isn't Made Up.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—St. Louisans in the House of Representatives are divided on the railroad bill which will be called up for debate tomorrow.

"I shall vote for the bill," said Representative Newton. "It is not perfect, but it is the best we can get at this time."

"I have not yet made up my mind on the bill," said Representative Dyer.

"I am opposed to it," said Representative Igou. The 5½ per cent guaranteed return to the railroads would not make for economy and efficiency of operation. On the contrary, it would promote extravagance and waste and impose an undue burden on shippers and the general public.

CAILLAUX, ON TRIAL FOR INTRIGUE, TAKES STAND

Former Premier Questioned on Activity in Brazil and Argentina.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 20.—Joseph Caillaux, former Premier, took the witness stand today when his trial before the Senate, sitting as a high court on the charge of intriguing to bring about a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany, was resumed.

Caillaux was examined with regard to his trip to South America and his relations with James Minotto, son-in-law of Louis F. Swift of Chicago, who in 1915 was interned in the United States as an alien enemy. Caillaux said that his pre-war policy, which was being termed by his enemies as a policy of rapprochement with Germany, was not that but was a policy of "European conciliation." He declared that he had never heard of Count Karl von Luxburg, former German Minister to Argentina, until five days before he left on his journey to South America. While in South America, Caillaux said, he had always told those around him that the Berlin policy was imprudent and unmanly.

A letter from Jean Jules Jusserand, French Ambassador to the United States, was read at this afternoon's session asking that he be excused from appearing personally but that instead his deposition be read. To this M. Mouret of Caillaux's counsel did not object.

The examination of the accused was confined to Caillaux's activities in Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina in December and January, 1914-15.

The defense argued that there had been a misinterpretation of the phrase "capture undesirable," referring to Caillaux in the telegram sent by Count von Luxburg to the Berlin Government by way of Washington, which had been construed to mean that Germany did not desire to interfere with the former Premier's movements. It was urged by the attorneys for the accused that this message was mistranslated in the United States and that it really read: "Capture very desirable."

TWO TESTIFY BOY KNEW REMMERSES WERE NOT PARENTS

Daughter of F. J. Remmers Says That When He Entered Home, He Called Her Mother "Auntie."

SISTER OF LATE CONTRACTOR WITNESS

Defendant, in Suit, Declares Man Who Left $260,000 Estate Agreed to Give Him Child's Portion.

A sister and a daughter of the late Frederick J. Remmers, wealthy building contractor, testified today for the defense in the suit of Henry J. Remmers of 5251 Cabanne avenue, to be declared the legally adopted son of F. J. Remmers. The case is on trial before Circuit Judge Davis.

The sister, Mrs. Anna Bockle of Washington, Mo., testified that Henry Remmers was 6½ years old when his mother died, and that he knew, on coming into the household of F. J. Remmers, that Mr. and Mrs. Remmers were his uncle and aunt, and not his parents. This is in contradiction to previous testimony to the effect that the child supposed the uncle and aunt to be his father and mother. Henry was a nephew of the first Mrs. Remmers, who was his mother's sister.

The witness quoted the first Mrs. Remmers as saying, after her sister's death, that Henry, or Harry, had said to her, "Auntie, I'm coming to your house to stay."

Daughter's Testimony. The witness said that Mrs. Remmers had five children of her own, and had so much housework that she, the witness, helped her as much as she could.

Mrs. Clara Brumshwig of 1514 Hamilton avenue, daughter of F. J. Remmers, who is 45 years old, two years younger than Henry Remmers, testified that Henry, as a boy, knew that his father and mother were not his own parents.

She said Henry went to work for her father, the construction company, at the age of 14, having obtained his job through her father's partner. He became secretary of the company, and was married in 1897. After 1903, the witness said, he had no more to do with the elder Remmers, differences having arisen between them.

She said that before Henry Remmers' marriage, her father told her that a Mrs. Walsh, mother of Henry Remmers' fiancée, had visited him and asked him to adopt the young man legally. He said he refused to do this. Mrs. Brumshwig testified, and added, "Harry's own conduct will determine whether he shall share in my estate."

Estate Valued at $260,000. On cross-examination, she said that she and Henry had called each other brother and sister, and had introduced each other to other persons in that manner.

Henry Remmers desired to testify in his own behalf yesterday afternoon, but the court upheld an objection, stating that as one of the parties to the alleged agreement was dead, the other should not be permitted to testify.

The elder Remmers died last August, and Henry Remmers was not named in his will. The estate was valued at more than $260,000. Henry is suing for a child's portion, on the ground that Remmers and his aunt agreed to make him one of the heirs.

15 PER CENT MORE COFFEE USED IN U. S. IN LAST 6 MONTHS

Coffee Roasters Hear Address by Felix Corte, Chairman of Their Advertising Campaign.

Statistics show that coffee consumption in the United States increased 15 per cent in the last six months of 1919, Felix Corte, manager of the advertising campaign of the National Coffee Roasters' Association, said in an address before a sectional meeting of the association at the American Annex today. Coffee retailers who formerly sold a barrel of coffee in two weeks now dispose of the same amount in 10 days, he said.

St. Louis coffee men expressed the belief that the market will remain fairly stable, in spite of the poor 1919 crop. This is a result of the Brazilian Government reserve, they say, which has prevented coffee and resulted in even distribution. The best grades of coffee now sell at 55 cents a pound. St. Louis dealers point out, it is becoming the coffee market of the United States because of river transportation. Local dealers have adopted as their slogan "The All-Water Route."

ARREST OF TWO YELLOW TAXI DRIVERS CHARGED TO RIVALRY

The cases of two chauffeurs for the Yellow Taxicab Co., who were arrested Wednesday on charges of parking their cabs in front of 1823 Market street, opposite Union Station, without permission from the Board of Public Service, were continued in Police Court today until March 5.

J. W. Wallace Jr., manager of the company, who appeared in court with the chauffeurs, told reporters that the charges were inspired by rival taxicab concerns, which, he said, have used every means at their command to prevent the Yellow Cabs from soliciting fares at Union Station.

Wallace said that application was made to Director of Streets and Sewers Talbert for permission to establish a parking stand in front of the Market street address, where the company maintains a branch office. Talbert, he said, refused to issue it, stating that the police decided to approve the application.

The rival taxis, he asserted, parked in the rear and in front of the Yellow Cabs whenever an attempt was made to park the latter near Union Station, and in this way prevented the Yellow Cabs from moving out from the curb.

ELECTRIC COMPANY SALESMAN ADMITS EMBEZZLING $25,000

Chicago Youth Says He Spent the Money on His Wife, a Motion Picture Actress.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Earl W. Taylor, 19 years old, was under arrest today charged with embezzling $25,000 worth of stocks and supplies from an electric company for which he was salesman. Detectives said he had confessed, and explained he had spent the money on his wife, a motion picture actress, and another actress.

Search of Taylor's apartment disclosed he had 50 silk shirts, nine suits of clothing, 11 pairs of shoes, and seven overcoats.

SECOND BABY IN WEEK LEFT AT UNION STATION

Young Woman Gives It to Another to Hold, Then Fails to Return.

Another baby was abandoned at Union Station last night, the second this week. The other was a 2-week-old girl. This one is a 2-month-old boy.

Mrs. Willie Cooper of Clarksville, Tenn., was standing in the Midway last night when a woman, apparently about 21 years old and wearing a black fur coat, came up, carrying a baby and leading a little girl.

"Won't you hold my baby while I check my bundles," she explained.

Mrs. Cooper said of course she would hold the baby, and the young woman handed it, and also a bundle, to her.

Mrs. Cooper was still holding the baby an hour later when a police-woman, moved by its cries, made inquiry. A search failed to reveal the young woman, and the baby was sent to the city hospital.

The bundle was found to contain several changes of baby clothing. It apparently had been recently purchased and was wrapped in paper bearing the name of a general store in Vandalia, Ill. Unlike the silk wardrobe, which was left with the baby girl abandoned at the station Monday, this clothing was of cheap quality.

Mrs. Cooper said the young woman who left the baby with her was a decidedly pretty brunette, about 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighing about 140 pounds. The girl, which she was leading, and which she took away with her, was about 3 years old.

Mrs. Cooper said.

The baby is being held at the city hospital for adoption, unless some claim is made for it. It has brown hair and brown eyes, and weighs 11 pounds.

GOV. ALLEN SAYS ANTI-STRIKE LAW WILL BE SUCCESS

Kansas Executive, Here to Address Sons of Revolution, Asserts Tribunal Has Already Proven Ability.

Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas today told a Post-Dispatch reporter of his belief that the Kansas court, established to settle disputes between capital and labor as civil and criminal courts now deal with social and business relations, had, in less than one month, proved its ability to function as planned. He is in St. Louis to speak tonight at the Washington Hotel before the St. Louis chapter of the Sons of the Revolution and the Society of Colonial Wars.

"The law became effective on a Saturday," he said. "On the following Monday 400 miners in the heart of our bituminous coal district struck in protest. I dispatched the Attorney-General of the State to arrest the leaders and prosecute them under the criminal clauses of the act, which makes individuals liable to a $500 fine and a year's jail sentence or both."

"Before the Attorney-General could arrive at the strike scene the strikers were at their work again. When the Attorney-General did arrive he was told by some of the leaders that the walkout was not a protest against the law, but that it was traceable to 'blue Monday.'"

Officers of Union Accept Law. "The next evidence of how the law was going to work came in a day or two afterward, when officers of a union whose by-laws prescribed the manner in which they should move toward a wage advance, ignored their own by-laws and came to the industrial court, accepting it as henceforth the proper medium. The law was effective on Feb. 1 and since then five other unions have, by submitting grievances, acknowledged the authority of the new court, and four employers likewise have brought in their grievances. We are in a state of high expectancy over what we may depend upon the law to do in quieting disturbances arising from the disagreement of capital and labor."

Provisions of the Law. The Sunday Post-Dispatch of Jan. 25 contained an analysis of the new law. It creates a court of three judges, none of whom are appointed representatives of capital or labor. It grants authority to the court to intervene whenever a walkout or lockout in an industry affecting the common public welfare seems impending. It compels submission to the findings of the court, but permits appeal to the Supreme Court of Kansas. It is a medium of appeal for all industry desiring the adjudication of differences.

Concerning the political situation, the Governor said: "Persons and public figures now are engaged in making platforms. The sound platform should attend to a constructive handling of the industrial relation. The radicals of labor now are building a party on proscriptive with which to threaten the two existing parties. The relations of capital and labor must be handled fairly and justly. The submerged nine-tenths are beginning to articulate, and are demanding that the rights of the public, heretofore ignored in the bickering of the one-tenth, shall no longer be ignored. The party that does not take that fact into account is not brave."

"No Specialists for President." Gov. Allen said that he did not care to discuss personalities in the presidential field, but felt that the time for specialists in the presidential chair had passed. "We want a man who will take advice," he said. "We have already tried the other type. Both parties must measure their candidates not as the representative of business or of any one consideration, but as the product of all our institutions."

"In Kansas we regard politics as an outdoor sport, not an industry, and I believe that now more than any time in the State's history its citizens are demanding that the next President shall be a man who is an American and who measures big and broad."

ST. LOUIS MAN DIES AT COLON

J. J. Bogard Jr., Chief Mate of Steamer Lake Fagundus, Succumbs. Notice of the death of John J. Bogard Jr., 38 years old, chief mate aboard the steamship Lake Fagundus at Colon, Panama, on Feb. 3 last, was received last night by Charles Van Graafeiland of 4370 Washington boulevard, with whom Bogard resided until his departure from St. Louis to enter the merchant marine service two years ago. A telegram, signed by the captain of the ship, did not state the cause of death.

Bogard formerly was chief commissary officer on various Government boats plying the Mississippi River. After we entered the war he joined the merchant marine. He is survived by his widowed mother, Mrs. Christina Bogard, and a sister and brother.

KIEL SAYS HE WILL BACK DAVIS TO END

Other G. O. P. Leaders Drifting
to Spencer—Chairman Schmoll
Says He Is Neutral.

Mayor Kiel, honorary chairman of the Dwight P. Davis senatorial campaign committee, today made it known that he had resisted overtures from the politicians supporting Senator Spencer for renomination and would stand by his promise to the business men's committee, which has undertaken Davis' campaign, to support Davis.

The Mayor's statement also gave indication that the Republican City Committee is by no means unanimous in support of Davis and that a split in the committee virtually is certain over the senatorial primary. Reports that the Mayor was wavering in his support of Davis seemingly are set at rest by his statement, which follows a few days after publication of conversations he had with politicians in which he commented upon the strength which he said Spencer was gaining.

Spencer at Luncheon. Spencer was in St. Louis to attend the Lincoln day banquet of the Republicans Thursday of last week. Friday several of his supporters, including Judge Vital W. Garesche, Louis P. Aloe, Henry S. Caulfield and Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, arranged a luncheon for Spencer at Hotel Jefferson. Chairman John Schmoll of the Republican City Committee, while considered a lukewarm supporter of Davis, is considered very friendly to Spencer. Those who were to attend this luncheon were in the lobby of the hotel when the Mayor and G. A. Buder entered. The Spencer men invited the Mayor and Buder to attend the Spencer luncheon. The Mayor pleaded a previous engagement, but upon being urged agreed to go to the private dining room where the Spencer luncheon was being given, after filling his other engagement.

When they got the Mayor into the room, one of the party demanded to know if he had authorized the use of his name as honorary chairman of the Davis committee.

"I told them," the Mayor said in making public the affair, "that I had authorized the use of my name, that I was for Davis and would remain with him all the way."

"You fellows have short memories," I told them. "A few months ago you were condemning Senator Spencer and blaming me for supporting him. Men like A. L. Shapleigh, Benjamin Gratz, John H. Holliday and M. L. Wilkinson, all of whom supported me, have asked me to support Davis. I told them I would and I am going to stand by my promise."

When Chairman Schmoll was asked about the luncheon, he at first said he could not recall being there, but when some of the incidents were recited to him he said he was at the luncheon, but that he could not remember that there was anything of political significance said.

"I'm neutral on the senatorship," he said. "I don't think I ought to get mixed up in it."

Schmoll Changes View. He said he was greatly disappointed that Spencer voted to override President Wilson's veto of the prohibition enforcement law, but that he understood better now the reason for the Senator's action than he had when he denounced it the day following the vote. Schmoll said the Republicans in the Senate had what amounted to a caucus on the matter and that Senator Spencer followed the desires of the Republican leaders.

"He would not have voted that way if he had received my telegram," Schmoll said.

been in the nature of an instruction to support the President on the veto.

Weeks for Spencer. Members of the Republican City Committee who never have been friendly to Davis, but who it was thought the Mayor would line up for him, are gradually drifting to Spencer. Goldstein, committeeman from the Nineteenth Ward, is a strong supporter of Spencer. Henry L. (Hank) Weeks, who retired as committeeman from the Eighteenth Ward, a year or more ago when it became publicly known that he never had been naturalized, yesterday announced that he was for Spencer, and that he had told the Mayor that "he (the Mayor) was out on a limb with Davis and that they were going to saw it off short and that he would get an awful bump."

PAINTING, 35 FEET BY 12, IS PRESENTED TO FIRST REGIMENT

Shows American Troops Entering
Manila in Spanish-American War

—Given by A. A. Busch. A painting 35 feet long and 12 feet high, showing American troops entering Manila immediately after their capture during the Spanish-American war, has been presented to the First Regiment of the Missouri National Guard by August A. Busch.

The painting is one of two bought by the late Adolphus Busch from the Philippine exhibit of the St. Louis World's Fair. It was painted in Manila in 1901 by E. Gautier-Guarnator. The painting has been hung in the new club room of the Armory, Grand avenue and Market street. It covers virtually the entire south wall. It was originally presented to Gen. Arthur B. Donnelly for the regiment in 1917, but before it could be installed in the Armory the regiment was called to the colors. Recently Maj. Norman B. Comfort and Lieut. (Colonel) Love completed arrangements for the hanging of the painting.

A companion painting, by the same artist, showing American troops under command of "Hell Roaring" John Smith, accepting the surrender of the Spanish officers of Fort Cavite, key to Manila, after the destruction of the fortifications by Dewey's fleet, is hung in the legal department of the Anheuser-Busch plant.

NEWBERRY WORKERS NOT ALL REIMBURSED

Some "Get Busy, There is More in Sight," Promises Not Kept, Witnesses Testify.

By the Associated Press
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 20.—Whether Milton Oakman, Detroit political leader, was "kidding" or "serious" when he told Chase S. Osborn's Detroit campaign manager that the Newberry committee promised him $20,000 for his support of the junior Michigan Senator, was a moot question, after yesterday's testimony in the Newberry election conspiracy trial. The Osborn man, Henry A. Montgomery, said he knew "Oakman's reputation as a 'kiddier,'" but took it seriously enough to report it to Osborn, and there the matter stood. The defense did, however, get Montgomery to emphasize that Oakman told him he never got a dollar.

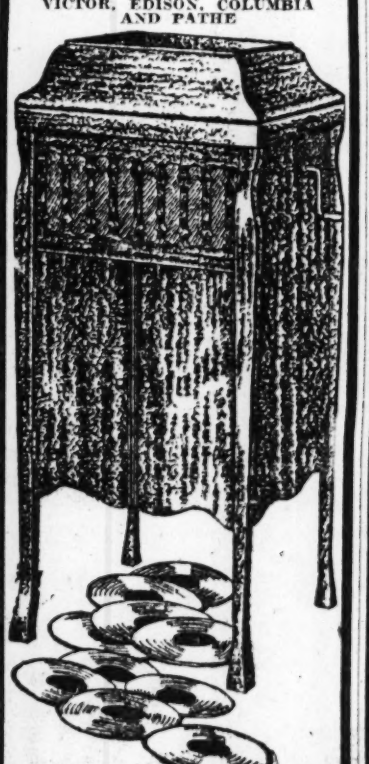

There was other testimony indicating not all the Newberry workers got money for their pains. The grand jury evidence of Louis Burr, Houghton lumber man, was read from notes, and it related that Paul King complimented Burr on his work and promised he would be reimbursed for time and expenses connected with numerous trips about the copper country. Burr added he never saw the money.

A third such bit came from Willard C. Smith of Grand Rapids, who swore that Charles B. Carpenter, a banker defendant, gave him some Newberry buttons and $10 and told him to "get busy, there is more in sight." Later Carpenter, learning that Smith had not received "that money," promised to "see that it was fixed up," but Smith said he got nothing more.

Witnesses came and went so rapidly that the Government ran out of testimony and forced an adjournment half an hour ahead of the usual time. Much of the speed was due to the reservation of cross-examinations to give defense counsel opportunity to check up grand jury testimony on statements by 10 defendants. These stories were recited off rapidly by Clerk Higbee of the grand jury, who read from notes he made at the star chamber proceedings.

COURT REFUSES TO ADMIT DREAM TALK AS EVIDENCE

Chicago Man Tells While Asleep of Love for Stenographer. His Wife Reports to Judge.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Dreams and what one may say in them have no standing in the Circuit Court, so Judge Rush decided, when Mrs. Annie Vallas in a separate maintenance suit, quoted the soft mutterings of her husband concerning the charms of Mrs. Earl Knecht, his stenographer.

"He told of his love for her in his sleep and called her 'Sis,' the name she was known by in the office." What a person may say while dreaming may be opposite what that person would say when conscious, therefore dream testimony is improper, said the court. Mrs. Knecht, 22 years old, and attractive, testified that she did not know why she had inspired any dreams, for all was proper between herself and Vallas.

The Juvenile Shop is now launching the Spring modes in smart suits, frocks and coats and invite their young patrons and their mothers to inspect these new arrivals.

For dress wear here are Suits more elaborate, in serge, tricotone and silvertone that feature trig models with corded tucking, duvetyn vests, embroidery or braid trimming. These are priced $55.00 to $89.50

Frocks the Essence of Youthful Charm

Taffeta, crepe de chine and jersey are responsible for most of the Spring Frocks that depict the smartest new Frocks modes for girls. $29.75 to $55.00

Springtime in the Misses' Shop

BRIGHT sunshine, gay blossoms and the caroling of birds are not more expressive of the joyousness and freshness of this glad season than the arrays of delightful Spring Apparel that greet youthful maids here.

—Although really Spring is still around the corner it is time now for every young woman to begin selecting her new clothes, if she would step forth correctly clad to meet her own season—the season of youth and gaiety.

Spring Suits— for Happy Promenades

Interest is centered around the Spring Suit—and it is no wonder for their tailored charm becomes their youthful wearers. Smart modes there are in wide variety, with only one thing consistently true—the youthful silhouette. The Eton, the Pony, the Russian Blouse, the ripple and the trim straightline belted models present Suits for every type. These are developed in tricotone, Poret twill and men's-wear serge and navy blue is the color. Embroidery, braid, corded tucking and moire and satin girdles lend added smartness to many of the models. Prices range from $49.75 to $195.00

When warmer days come 'round there are many needs for the Sports Suit. Velour checks, tricolettes, rainbow tweeds and jerseys suggest delightful outdoor activities—in Springlike coloring and trig sports models $35 to $98.50

Spring Frocks— Quaint and Piquant

Like the Suits, Spring Frocks form a diversified display of the new modes that embody Dame Fashion's happiest Frock thoughts and interprets them in terms of youthful charm.

Taffetas, softly rustling, are pictures of quaintness and piquancy—ruffled and puffed and plaited. Mignonette, Georgette, satin and crepe de chine in accordion plaited and draped models show the new harem bottom skirt, exquisite embroideries and bright colored ribbon girdles and sashes.

Trotteur Frocks of tricotone and serge in Eton and other clever models; feature embroideries, plaid sashes, cut steel beads and leather belts. Prices range from $19.75 to $125.00

Spring Topcoats and Wraps

—just had to be charming affairs to be forgiven for covering the Frocks.

MISSSES' Wraps seem undecided whether to relinquish the grace of the cape or the becomingness of the coat, so they combined the best qualities of each—those beautiful dovotone, rai silvertip, Scotch homespun, duvetyn and silvertipped Bolivia, in lovely color tones, as their fabrics, gayly lined them in colorful silks—and they are really fascinating.

A Polo Coat every fashionable miss must have, for already they are declared "the vogue for Spring." Light and comfortable in weight, they are made of tan, reindeer or show camel's hair or worumba cloth, in chic models, with self material or leather belts short, three-quarter and full length $55 to $129.75

LABOR LAUNCHES FIGHT TO DEFEAT RAILROAD BILL

Begin Determined Attack in House and Senate, Planning to Urge Veto if Present Efforts Fail.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Union labor, led by officers of the American Federation of Labor and the railroad brotherhoods, today had well under way its fight in Congress against the adoption of the redrafted railroad reorganization bill. Besides the memorial prepared by representatives of 15 railroad unions and federation officers at an all-day conference yesterday, addressed to Congress as a whole, individual Congressmen were deluged today by letters and telegrams from union leaders generally protesting against enactment of the bill into law.

The plan of the unions, it was shown, provides first for a determined fight in the House and Senate. If defeated there, the controversy will be taken directly to President Wilson. In the hope of a veto. The opposition of the unions as shown in the memorial to Congress declaring the redrafted bill to be destructive of the employees' constitutional privileges and liberties is based chiefly on the method proposed for handling wage and labor disputes.

Attack Fixed Return.

The provision for a fixed financial return to holders of railroad securities also is attacked, the memorial holding that the provisions would constitute "an abandonment of Government for the common good, the establishment of government for private interest, special privilege and class benefit."

Principal objection to the labor arbitration clause is based on the manner in which the special arbitration boards would be constituted and the manner of their operation. Union leaders contend that the arbitration boards, including the permanent Federal board of nine members,

"Reduce Your Weight a Pound a Day"

ADVERTISING.

"Not Impossible," Says a Physician in a Recent Interview.

Not enough oxygen in the system and poor assimilation are generally the causes of superfluous flesh. Too little of the food you eat is being made into good, hard tissue, and too much into little globules of fat. This causes an excess of fat, sometimes all over the body or around the hips, over the bust or under the chin only.

One of the best methods for treating excess fat that requires no drastic dieting, violent exercising or cumbersome appliances is to breathe deeply and to take a few grains of physio-act after each meal and at bedtime. Remarkably quick results are generally secured in this way and if you follow these simple directions, even a few days' use should show you what a good method this is. As this excess fat, which is very weakening, disappears, you should gain strength rapidly, and your skin should take on a healthy tone and firmness, with no flabbiness or sagging. This method of reducing your weight is so easy and pleasant that not even your most intimate friends need know of it. You can get the genuine physio-act at small cost at Enderle Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., E. A. Medler, Judge & Dolph or Keiffer Drug Co.

might be so composed as to eliminate labor from representation. The method of proposed adjudicating labor disputes by groups of not less than 100 employees, the leaders declared, would "destroy all discipline and lead to chaos," because they would encourage the workers to disregard existing agreements and long established orderly methods of procedure.

The union officials, as set forth in the memorial, see in the bill a "determination to annul existing agreements and destroy the organizations which negotiated them," and voice strongly their opposition to the provision that would make ineligible for appointment to the labor board any person connected with an organization of employees. The provision, they point out, would result in forcing men "long trained in labor union work to relinquish association of many years to accept such a position."

Charge Financial Favors.

Representative Barkley, Democrat of Kentucky, who with Representative Sims, Democrat of Tennessee, is expected to lead the fight against the measure on the floor of the House, late yesterday, filed a statement on the reasons why he refused to approve the conference compromise bill. He attacked the measure as conferring "financial favors" on the carriers that would force increased rates aggregating $1,250,000,000 and add to the cost of living generally.

Despite opposition within and from the labor unions, members of the House predicted today only a few days would be required to pass the bill. Senate consideration of the measure will not begin until after the House has acted.

While the labor representatives were in session, Director-General Hines in conference with a committee of leading railway executives, received a pledge of their co-operation in the establishment of a committee of experts to gather data bearing on the wage problem. The executives expressed a desire that solution of the wage problem be expedited, and Hines said that the time and method of constituting the committee of experts would be recommended to the President as soon as a conference with the railroad union officials could be held.

MRS. ELIZA CLYMER IS DEAD

Mrs. Eliza A. W. Clymer, 74 years old, owner of considerable property here, died Wednesday at Biloxi, Miss., after an attack of influenza. Her body is being brought here by her brother, George von Schrader, and is expected to arrive today.

Mrs. Clymer was the widow of Helster Clymer, a former Congressman from Reading, Pa. Her real estate holdings here included a portion of the present site of the Mercantile Trust Co. and the 65-acre tract occupied by the Log Cabin Club on Clayton road. She was a sister of Otto von Schrader.

BARGE SAILINGS RESUMED

The normal operation of the Government River Service, which is from St. Louis to New Orleans, will be resumed with a sailing from this city today.

Cairo has been the northern terminus of the operation since late in December, when ice began flowing through the river here, making the operation of boats here impossible. The service offered shippers has not been interrupted, however. Freight offered here for shipment to southern points or export has been forwarded by rail to Cairo and transferred to barge there.

ACID STOMACH

Try Drinking a Little Hot Water With Magnesia to Neutralize Acid, Sweeten Stomach and Quickly Stop Indigestion.

When food lies like lead in your stomach and you have that sour, burning or full, uncomfortable, bloated feeling, it is because of indigestion. Indigestion is the stomach, equipped with stomach acidity and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed by thousands of former sufferers from indigestion by simply taking a teaspoonful of Magnesia in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the dissolved Magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort it gives. It is convenient at times to secure hot water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take hasty meals must be sure to have a glass of hot water and three or four grains of Magnesia to prevent fermentation and to neutralize the excess acid in the stomach.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and other disorders come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidney or your back hurts, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids so they no longer cause irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

SOCIALISTS NEVER DICTATE STRIKES, WITNESS TESTIFIES

Unions Always May Rely on Its Aid, However, Party Secretary Says at Hearing of New York Assemblymen

STRIKES GENERALLY JUSTIFIED, HE SAYS

Denies That 70 Per Cent of Members Are Aliens—Admits Party Has 8 Foreign Language Federations.

By the Associated Press. ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 20.—The Socialist party never attempts to "dictate" to labor unions when strikes are to be called, labor union "dictating" for betterment of working conditions "may always rely on the assistance of the party, Otto Branstetter, national secretary, testified today at the trial of the five suspended Socialist Assemblymen. The prosecution has charged the party approves the general strike as a weapon for promoting its class struggle.

Asked by a member of the Assembly Judiciary Committee conducting the trial, if support is given irrespective of whether individual strikes are justified, the witness replied strikes "are generally justified and necessary." Support, he explained, consisted of contributions and space in the Socialist press. He denied the statement of Peter W. Collins, Knights of Columbus worker, and prosecution witness, that the party had paid agitators in the trade union movement to advocate strikes which could not be won so as to arouse discontent in the labor movement. To add most Socialist workers were trade union members, but he declared anyone voting for a strike in order that it might be lost would be expelled from the party.

Denies I. W. W. Connection. He denied the I. W. W. was connected with the party and declared violent elements in the city or country did not support the party, but became tools of other political organizations.

In connection with the charge that aliens controlled the party, Branstetter testified the National Executive Committee comprised six native born and one naturalized Americans.

He also denied that 70 per cent of the party membership was alien. He said such membership never had reached 10 per cent and usually 99 per cent were citizens. He said in only 10 states were aliens allowed to vote on party matters and Socialist sentiment was swinging toward only citizen suffrage.

Under cross-examination, Branstetter, second witness for the defense, testified the party had eight foreign language federations. The prosecution which has sought to link American Socialists with Russian Bolsheviks in a world-wide campaign of disorder, was informed the Russian federation had been suspended last June and then, on mutual consent, had withdrawn.

Predicts Socialist Control. Under cross-examination, that control of the United States Government would pass peacefully into the hands of the Socialist party when it enrolls the working class. He issued a warning that "it is not impossible the people will be compelled to supplement their political action with a little shooting" if the profiteering class revolts after the majority of the people are ready to introduce "substantial reforms" by "legal constitutional methods." He denied the Socialist party intended to promote its program by other than "legislative action, parliamentary action, and in a peaceful way." But while the party was not plotting bloody revolution to achieve its aims, Branstetter declared history had shown that "when the privileged minority is about to lose its privileges, it becomes desperate and tries to destroy reform or lawful revolutionary movements by force."

In that case it will be up to the majority of the people to defend their rights against such lawless, powerful, privileged minorities, and in a case of that kind it may come to shooting."

No Romantic Significance. Questioned on the Socialist concept of "revolution" the witness said it had "no romantic significance of barricade fights."

In this connection he had testified Socialists had "opposed" the war because in the case of the United States it was not defensive; had repudiated the sentiment "my country, right or wrong" and the slogan "Stand behind the President" and had clung to "the true doctrine of patriotism—the ideal of international working class solidarity."

HOLDEN TO HEAD THREE ROADS
By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, today announced that he had been elected president of the Colorado & Southern Railway and would resume the presidency of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad and the Wichita Valley Railroad as soon as the directors meet. F. E. Clarity, assistant regional director of the Railroad Administration in the Central West under Government control, will be elected vice president of the three lines, with headquarters at Fort Worth.

For the Good of St. Louis

HAS the census man listed every one of your employes and associates? If St. Louis is to retain her place as fourth city of the United States it is imperative that everybody be counted.

Show your interest in our city's growth and future! Help keep St. Louis where she belongs! See that every man, woman and child in your office and home is counted! Remember, too, that nationality doesn't matter—foreign citizens as well as U. S. citizens are to be listed—just so they live in St. Louis. Your help in this matter is needed.

Will you take a hand? Will you see that every person who works with you or for you is enumerated? If so, here's a suggestion: Appoint one of your most popular, most competent employes a special census checker. Ask him to interview every man, woman and child in your office, plant or store and to bring you the names and addresses of those who have not yet been counted, or who think they have not been counted, by the census enumerators. Send this list to Census Bureau, St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, Broadway and Locust.

If every employer will do this small service, and do it at once, there will be many thousands of names added to St. Louis' population—names that may otherwise remain uncounted.

To Relieve Catarrh,
Catarrhal Deafness
And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises, will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving them from suffering perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows: Secure from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmitin (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little crystallized sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective. Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, ringing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Corns and "Gets-It" Can't Live Together

You'll have no more pain, but will notice the corn getting loose and wobbling. In a day or so you lift it right off without any feeling. That's the end of the corn and of your trouble. Millions have proved "Gets-It" to be the one and only unailing, corn-killing corn remedy. Why not you? "Gets-It" costs but a trifle at any drug store and carries a money-back guarantee. Mfd by E. RAYMOND BELMONT SUE FOR
$15,000 ROULETTE GAME DEBT

Answer Says It Is Outlawed by Limitations and Further That It Is Gambling Obligation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Raymond Belmont's answer to the suit began last December by E. W. Rankin of Newport, R. I., to collect on a $15,000 I. O. U., disclosed yesterday that the note was given in a roulette game at Newport in 1912.

In the answer filed in the Supreme Court, Belmont, who is the eldest son of August Belmont, the financier, declines to pay the debt on the grounds, first, that it is outlawed under the statute of limitations, and second, that it is a gambling debt and therefore has no legal status.

Henry Hickman, attorney for Rankin, has this to say about the answer: "The statute of limitations has no bearing on this case, because Belmont was two years in France. The second part is a perfectly legal and iron-clad defense, but am surprised that a former American army officer should lie down on a $15,000 I. O. U. given in a roulette game in which several other well-known gentlemen took part."

"The only thing we can do now is to put the young man on the stand and get him to explain why he does not apply the ordinary code of honor among gentlemen to this particular debt."

Young Belmont's attorney, Henry A. Uthart, said:

"If the case goes to trial the public will be fully informed why Mr. Belmont does not consider this a just debt. The circumstances under which the note was given will be brought out."

Rankin is described in the papers filed as "the proprietor of a house in Newport."

ROOT'S OUTLINE OF POLICIES FOR NEW G. O. P. PLATFORM

Urges Early Ratification of Treaty With Changes and Revision of League Advocated in Speech.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Ellhu Root, as temporary chairman, delivered the keynote speech at the unofficial State Republican convention here last night.

Women were represented at the convention for the first time in this State, with 253 delegates and 298 alternates.

Would Curb President's Power.
"More important than all," Root said, "is the necessity that we shall restore our Republican form of government with the liberty of the individual citizen preserved by limitations upon official power, created, in order to carry on the war. By a series of statutes unprecedented in scope and liberality the American people conferred upon the President powers broader and more autocratic than were possessed by any sovereign in the civilized world. Our capacity for effort, our fortitude, liberty of conduct, our lives were freely placed at the disposal of an executive whose authority was so vast that its limits were imperceptible. The authority was exercised to the full, without question, because the people of America were ready to make any sacrifice to win the war.

"Peace has come, but the war powers of the executive still continue. They should be brought to an end. It is not a simple thing, for new conditions have been created which should be dealt with at the same time by new statutes adapted to the conditions of peace and subject to limitations upon powers of our constitutional system.

Double Purpose to Be Served.
"There is a double immediate purpose to be served. One to restore the habit of freedom. It is dangerous for a people to acquire the habit of bowing to power without limits. They soon become subservient and the character essential to freedom degenerates. The other is to stop a multitude of interferences, ill-judged, although well meant with the natural course of business through which alone natural powers can operate to restore normal conditions.

The appeal of President Wilson in October, 1918, for the election of a Democratic Congress, he declared, was "not merely an injustice to the Republican Senators and Representatives who, with splendid loyalty, had supported every forward step of the administration," but "it was a demand for continuance of supreme power by the election of a Congress which would submit itself to the orders of an executive acting at once as a party leader in politics and a dictator in government. It was the instinct of American democracy that repelled the demand.

"The President's defiance of the authority of the Senate to advise upon the covenant of the league of nations and to give or withhold its consent to the ratification of the treaty containing it," he continued, "was an assertion of right to continue the same autocratic power.

"The President had the constitutional authority and duty to negotiate the treaty. The Senate had the constitutional duty to advise and to consent or refuse to consent in accordance with their judgment. The right to perform that duty was challenged. Senators were threatened if they did not submit their judgment to the presidential will."

The treaty they were called upon to consider, Root declared, "was fatally defective in several respects." It was the duty of the Senators, he said, to "test the true meaning of every paragraph and to form their own judgment upon the results which would be produced for America and for civilization.

"The reservations adopted by the Senate," he insisted, "remedy so far as the United States is concerned the chief objections to the treaty. They prevent our entrance into the league from being an abandonment of the Monroe doctrine."

"Especially important," asserted Root, "is the fact that the present 'incredible mistake' of article 10. The agreement in that article 'to preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league, he argued, binds the United States, when the occasion arises, to defend every member of the league by armed force against the external aggression, 'no matter what our people think about the right and wrong of the controversy or about the wisdom or folly of entering upon it.

"It seems clear to me that in the interests of the world's peace, which all America desires to promote, this treaty ought to be ratified with the reservations of the Senate, and that without those reservations ought not be ratified. I hope that the treaty will be ratified with those reservations long before the presidential elections. That will be done if the President permits it. If it is not done then I think the Republican party ought to stand for it.

Suggests Revision for League.
Immediately after the fourth of March, 1921, a Republican President should urge upon the society of nations the reform of the league covenant, so as to make it establish the rule of public right rather than the rule of mere expediency, so as to make the peace of the world rest primarily upon law. A congress of all nations should be called to consider what of international law is still binding and to provide for the development and extension of that law, and for the application of the law to all justifiable cases of controversy between nations by impartial judicial tribunals, and to make the decisions of such tribunals upon questions of fact and upon questions of law binding and effective. That is the old American doctrine, and that is the necessary method of

DOES HE TURN HIS FACE AWAY

When you dance with a young man, is he happy and full of fun, brushing his cheek gently against your silky, fluffy, fragrant hair? Or does he dance with you solemnly as if he felt sad, because he has caught a whiff of the faint offensive odor of your neglected hair? If he does, you may be sure that he will not ask you for another dance.

It's so easy to have clean, fragrant, lustrous hair, that no girl should ever risk losing a friend through neglect and carelessness. Men admire dainty refined women. But many really charming women have hair that has excess oil, which causes a faint unpleasant odor.

A quick shampoo with COCONOL will make your hair delightfully silky, fragrant and lustrous. COCONOL does not dry the hair but leaves it soft, silky and easy to manage. Get a box of COCONOL today. It's made from the purest coconut oil and only costs 25 cents a box at all toilet counters.

Mr. G. Buentemeier Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My whole body was full of red pimples. The skin started to itch and I would rub it, and the more I scratched the more the pimples spread, and I could not sleep. When it got warm, the pimples itched so I could not work, and when I rubbed, the skin would get red and burn, and my whole body was filled with eruptions for six months.

"Then I started to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After I used them a week I found relief and I only used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) George Buentemeier, Pine Top, Minn., May 30, 1919.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

MOON MODERN MOTOR CARS

THE timeliness of the new Moon Six-48, apparent at a glance, is proved by an analysis of its design and construction.

Every line, from the sharp angles of the deep nickel-silver radiator and the octagon lamps to the tilt of the extra tire carrier, conforms to the symmetry of its straight lines and squares.

A four-inch longer wheelbase emphasizes the characteristic Moon balance and low center of gravity—features that insure smooth riding.

It is powered with a new high-speed motor of matchless flexibility. Full cord tire equipment cushions its pathway.

The model is made in touring, sport roadster, sedan and coupe body types—each selling at a price that is an appeal to your reason.

Built by MOON MOTOR CAR CO., St. Louis, U. S. A.
City Sales Dept., 3115 Locust St.

TRUCK SHOW NOTES

One of the strictly new models at the truck show is the one and a half ton model A Duplex. This is a speed wagon designed to carry capacity loads over country roads at 30 miles per hour. It is equipped with electric lights and starter.

A Commerce one-ton truck, especially equipped for use on the farm, is being shown by the Federal Truck Co. It has an Every-Way body, which can easily be changed to accommodate various kinds of work which a farmer would require of a truck.

Special attention is called to the wide flange on the frame by the men in the Denby booth. No rivet holes appear in the top or bottom flange, and it is claimed that in six years no frame has ever broken. Only the two-ton size is being exhibited; the complete line of six models range in size from one to seven tons.

The three and one-half-ton Mack dump truck, which has been sold to the Bull Dog General Hauling Co., has been fitted with an electric motor which lifts and lowers the dump body. It is one of the largest of this type of trucks at the show.

A truck parade was held yesterday by the Eagle Motor Truck Corporation, one of St. Louis' newer truck makers. The leading truck carried a giant eagle, typifying the trademark of the company.

AUTO SHOW NOTES

Few exhibits have more attractive surroundings than that of the Davis and Malbohm cars in the marble and mirrored walled room on the extreme southwest corner of the first floor. The rich surroundings give the appearance of an exclusive salon.

The Newell Motor Car Co. is displaying the most expensive stock model of the Stearns line—a luxurious limousine listed at $4495. A roadster is also on display.

Of the many chassis being displayed this week, the Franklin is the only one which is showing a frame constructed of wood. This for years has been an exclusive Franklin feature. Three splices of seasoned oak are used in its making, extreme flexibility and light wood are the claims made for it.

Two new model sedans, the Reo 6 and the Dort, are receiving most attention in the Kardell Motor Car booth at the northeast corner of the second floor. Three of the four new Reo models and two of the four new Dort models are being shown in addition to a cutaway chassis of both cars.

The completeness of the appointments of present day stock cars is shown in the Packard limousine being exhibited at the show. No custom built car gave greater atmosphere of luxury. The interior is upholstered in a pre-war quality velvet, our which at the present time costs $12.75 a yard and was made specially for the Packard Co. The car with its equipment sells for $7811.

Radical change in the lines of the Scripps-Booth was made by the absorption of straight front radiator which replaces the old familiar V-shaped front. The new models retain the nickel finish, and, in a general way, the lines which have been distinctive to the Scripps-Booth.

The new model Hupmobile shows many refinements, both mechanical and in body lines, the radiator and cowl having been raised and a manifold has been added to the motor.

Thirty-five of the higher priced cars exhibited at the show have been equipped with auxiliary wind shields, a new device recently brought out by the Gentry-Weston Co. of Detroit. The Auto Devices Co. are local representatives.

$30,000 FOR A BROKEN NECK

Man Whose Auto Was Struck by Train Gets Verdict.

Arthur J. Stevenson of 5619 Etzel avenue, a salesman, yesterday obtained a verdict in Circuit Judge Hogan's court for $30,000 damages against the Frisco Railroad for injuries received by him July 3 last when an automobile in which he was riding was struck on a crossing between Salem and Cuba, Mo.

Stevenson alleged that his neck was broken, and testimony of physicians was to the effect that the second and third cervical vertebrae were dislocated. He is obliged to wear a heavy leather collar to protect the spinal cord. Stevenson sued for $45,000. He averred that the train failed to signal its approach.

LIQUOR STOLEN FROM HOME

24 Quarts and 34 Pints of "Old Eye" Taken From Basement.

The "private stock" of Philip Rabon, 1468 Clara avenue, was reduced by 34 quarts and 34 pints of "old eye" yesterday in the absence of the family. It had been stored in a locker in the basement and the thieves forced the lock to get in. The liquor was valued at $350.

Other burglaries reported were in the homes of Luther Walters, 1641 South Spring avenue, jewelry valued at $400; Henry Praechter, 2310 Ann avenue, jewelry valued at $200; and Robert J. Mathews, 6924 Magnolia avenue, jewelry valued at $125.

Resolution on National Parks.

The St. Louis Natural History Museum Association has sent to Congressmen Newton, Dyer and Igoe, Senator Spencer and the Secretary of the Interior resolutions advocating removal of the monopoly of transportation in the Rocky Mountain National Park and urging that the present national parks be enlarged and others created, and that their administration be put into the hands of the people.

HOTEL AND 2 THEATERS IN WEST END BUILDING

Fox Interests Propose to Erect Million-Dollar Structure Next Spring.

Announcement that the William Fox motion picture interests would erect next spring on some site in the West End yet to be chosen an apartment hotel containing two theaters, one on the ground floor and the other as a roof garden theater, was made here today by John Zanft, general manager for Fox.

The cost will be $1,000,000, he said. Zanft also said that it had been determined to establish in St. Louis the western offices of his company, to control the Fox motion picture theaters of Chicago (to be established), St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

Plans for the new apartment hotel are being held pending selection of a site. It is not possible to say now, Zanft said, how many stories the building will be. He said that the main theater would have a seating capacity of from 4000 to 4500 persons and that its attractions would not be limited to Fox productions. It is possible that vaudeville may be offered, he said.

The Fox interests now are operating the Liberty Theater on Delmar boulevard west of Grand avenue. It also was stated today that A. M. Frumberg had been named general counsel for the western Fox interests.

LITTLE PROGRESS IN AUSTRIAN RECONSTRUCTION CONFERENCE

Sessions at Salzburg, Marked by Conflict of Parties, Adjourned March 15.

SALZBURG, Austria, Feb. 20.—The conference of delegates from Austrian states which has been in session here for several days working out plans for the reconstruction of the country, has adjourned until March 15. Because of conflicting elements and the opposition of the Social Democrats, little progress has been made.

The only important question decided was that there should be created an upper house of the National Assembly which would be composed of three members from each province, with one additional member for each 400,000 of population. To prevent Vienna from having a dominant membership, however, a limit must be placed on the number to be sent from each province.

PRINCETON CLUB MEMORIAL FOR WAR DEAD TOMORROW

The Princeton Club of St. Louis will hold a service in the library of the University Club tomorrow at 4 p. m., in memory of the 146 Princeton men who died in service. This day has been set aside as Princeton Memorial day and at Princeton and throughout the country memorial services will be held at the same hour.

The St. Louis meeting will be conducted by Col. Robert Burkham, local commander of the American Legion. The program, which is to be the same at all meetings, includes a prayer, a minute of silence, the reading of the dedication address of President Hibben, a short address by Col. Burkham, and concludes with the singing of "Old Nassau."

The Princeton roll of honor contains the name of two St. Louis boys, Murray Carleton Evans and Charles Oliver Wiegand.

ROVING MARINES TO PERFORM IN ST. LOUIS MONDAY AND TUESDAY

"The Roving Marines," a detachment of the United States Marine Corps, will give two performances in St. Louis, Monday and Tuesday. The company consists of 60 men. It has a military band, a jazz band, a double quartet, several comedians and soloists, a lariat thrower, who formerly was a cowpuncher, and half a dozen boxers.

In addition there will be two reels of motion pictures showing life in the Marine Corps. They show what the marines are doing in Haiti, San Domingo and Cuba, in the West Indian Islands, China, Hawaii, Guam, the Virgin Islands, France and aboard U. S. warships and Marine Corps posts along both coasts of this country.

Admission to both performances, at the Armory Monday and at the K. of C. Hall Tuesday, will be free.

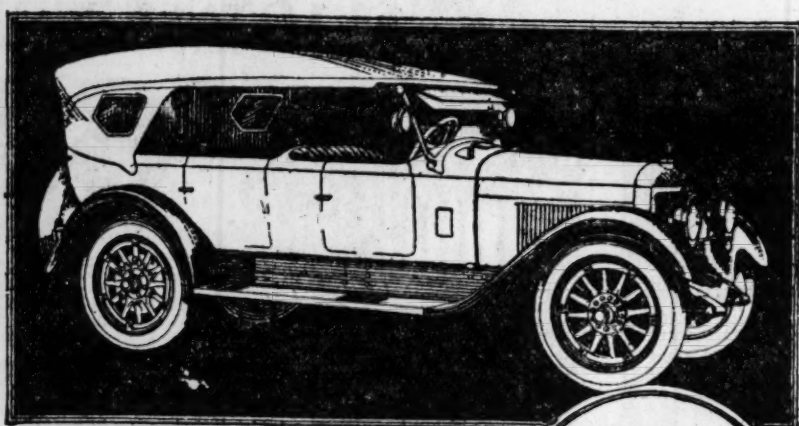

JOSEPH R. SPEED, POLICEMAN FOR 47 YEARS, DIES SUDDENLY

Joseph R. Speed, 74 years old, former police sergeant and for 47 years a policeman, died suddenly while being taken to the city dispensary from the Central District police garage at 9 o'clock this morning. He was a watchman in the garage and fell over in his chair unconscious a short time after he had reported for work. Heart trouble and the infirmities of old age are supposed to have caused death.

Speed was a brother of Richard Speed, former State Coal Oil Inspector, who died two months ago. The family home was in Warren County.

3 GIRLS HURT IN EXPLOSION

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Feb. 20.—Three girls were injured and three small buildings of the Conti Powder Co. were burned here today following an explosion of fireworks caused when a stove was upset in one of the buildings and fire spread to others. Six girls ran home after the explosion and it was first reported that they had been killed.

Premier Model 6-D Seven-Passenger Open Car

IN A WAY, this aluminumized, magnetically-shifted Premier may be regarded as America's new delegate to the world's congress of fine cars. Until now Europe has held leadership in the fine car field simply through default of competition. Concurrent with the appearance of this American contender, that condition is ended.

It represents a new conception of how truly beautiful a mechanical thing may be; and in the same breath, it discredits precedent on the limit to which human patience may be strained in perfecting detail down to the last minute touch. Premier is microscopically fine. Its possession instantly stamps its owner as an advanced thinker.

Is Your Family Protected?

Every man knows, or should know, that whether he possesses a large or small estate, he should, as a matter of prudence, make his will; by so doing he provides for his family and his friends, and has "Set His House in Order."

You cannot bequeath to your family your ability to manage your estate, but you can safeguard it by appointing this old and strong bank as your executor.

GUESTS AT MOON BALL

TO HAVE SOLAR ROLES

Fifty Will Participate in Spectacle Play at Artists' Guild Tomorrow Night.

FIFTY persons costumed as guests from the solar system will participate in the spectacle-play which will open at the Artists' Guild tomorrow night. The piece is entitled "The Queen of Night," with Mrs. B. Thompson as the moon and Mrs. B. Leonard as the sun, leader of the celestial guests. As the curtain rises the surface of the moon is disclosed, where the moonbeams are asleep. "Three moonshiners appear bearing their still, which they set up where they can look off to advantage upon the other worlds. Their discourse while rummatively drinking and lying about the still, which bubbles like a teakettle, is profoundly interplanetary and makes the atmosphere for what is to follow. When the moonshiners depart into the still night, taking their still with them, the moonbeams awake and dance. They are Mrs. Laurence Ewald and Miss Bertha Bates and Margaret Breen. Following comes the moon (Mrs. B. Thompson) inviting the celestial host with a poetic appeal beginning: "Come dance with me, ye planets."

They find her irresistible and come in a great and colorful procession led by the sun, who addresses the moon upon behalf of all her kinsmen in a poetic beginning:

"Sweet lady of the starlit night!" The planets and their followers, the constellations, stars, pleiades and signs of the zodiac thereupon enter each group announced by a herald (Mrs. B. Thompson). The costuming of the various planetary groups, which has been done by the artists of the guild under the direction of Miss Margaret Breen, makes up the color scheme of the ball. It is as follows: Mars, red; Mercury, silver with red spots; Venus, rose to pink; Uranus, the shades of blue; Jupiter, purple; Saturn, black, gray and brass; Neptune, sea green; Earth, brown and tawny yellow. George Wetzel is Mercury, D. R. Fitzpatrick is Mars, Mrs. W. Cherry is Uranus, Gustav Goetsch is Neptune, Dorothy Breen is Venus, W. H. Gruen is Saturn, W. H. Hammond, Jupiter and Mrs. Emily Phillips the Earth. The constellations are the Great Bear, Dr. Walter Baumgarten, Little Bear, E. M. Grossman, Orion, Manuel Hahn, Andromeda, Mrs. W. H. Hammond, Draco, W. H. Hicker. The stars are the North Star, Mrs. Clark McAdams, Sirius, O. E. Berninghaus, Psyche, Mrs. Bessie Breen, Ricker, Juno, Mrs. Walter Brinhurst, Ceres, Mrs. Robb B. Leonard, Vesta, Miss Mary McCall, Amphitrite, Mrs. Tyrrell Williams, Pallas, Mrs. Walter Baumgarten, and Proserpina, Mrs. Gustav Goetsch. The Pleiades are seven young girls who dance before the Queen.

There were 14 people in the dance of the Zodiac, which has been costumed by Dawson Watson. They do the dance of the seasons, and are dressed in the characterizations of the zodiac. They are: Aries, Sebe de Sampaio, Brazilian Consul in St. Louis; Taurus, Percy Werner; Leo, Norman Bailey; The Gemini, Amy Isaacs and Hilda Watson; Cancer, Dr. Arthur Proetz; Virgo, Bertha Bates; Libra, Sophie Isaacs; Scorpio, Irma Proetz; Sagittarius, Hazel Ewald; Capricornus, Dr. Otto Haller, Aquarius, Beale Thompson; Pisces, Margaret Breen and Grace Merrill. After the performance the moon and the sun lead the grand march, participated in by all those who have come in costume. Miss Alice Martin is stage manager, and the setting upon the moon is by Laurence Ewald. The play is designed by Robb B. Leonard, and the lines are by Clark McAdams. "The curtain goes up at 9:15 o'clock."

The father of the alleged murdered woman today brought before the judge of the court a surgical belt which was worn by his daughter. Police authorities here assert that Signora Mesones was in reality the woman whose body was found after the alleged suicide.

DECLARES AMERICA LEADS IN MEDICINE

U. S. Army Medical Staff Officer
Here Holding Examinations for National Board.

That American doctors are the best in the world and that St. Louis is one of the great medical centers of the world, is the belief of Col. Louis La Garde, of the United States Army Medical staff, who is here as a member of the National Board of Medical Examiners, now conducting examinations at the Washington University School of Medicine.

Col. La Garde, with Dr. Walter L. Biering of Des Moines, who will also be in St. Louis late today, comprised a committee sent by the National Board of Medical Examiners to invite the great medical associations of Europe to send representatives here to study American methods of medicine and surgery. And he is convinced, after a careful inspection of European schools of medicine, that those in the United States now offer far superior advantages to those of any other nation. In this he is supported by Admiral E. R. Stitt of the United States navy, who is also a member of the National Board and who arrived in St. Louis this morning.

"The National Board of Medical Examiners," said Col. La Garde to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "is mainly concerned in elevating the standard of medicine and surgery and in obtaining reciprocal relations with the foreign countries to the extent that one who qualifies by passing the examinations prescribed by this board may then be permitted to practice in any part of the world."

Purpose as to Board.

"It is the intention to make the National Board equally well known and standing for just as much as the famous Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of England. That country, by the way, has been very conservative about allowing American doctors to practice over there. And yet the equipment for teaching medicine and surgery in the United States is superior to that of England or any other foreign country."

"Your own Washington University is today ranked as one of the best equipped and most thorough medical schools in the entire world and it has become a real badge of distinction to have it said of a doctor that he has had training in Barnes Hospital."

"Fifteen years ago American universities were deficient in the attention they gave to the education of physicians and surgeons. Now that is all changed and they lead the world. Just as an example there is the famed Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., with which the medical school of the University of Minnesota is now affiliated. Professional men come from all parts of the globe to study the Mayo methods, and well they may."

Examination Difficult.

"But unfortunately in England and some other parts of Europe they still believe we are as primitive as we were 50 years ago. That is why the visit to this country in April and May of some of the leading physicians and surgeons of Europe will be an event of great importance. These men will be met at New York by Dr. Biering and myself and will be escorted to Washington where the National Board of Medical Examiners has its headquarters, and thence to New Orleans to attend the sessions of the American Medical Association. Then they will be brought to St. Louis and will spend several days here. They will go from St. Louis to the Mayo clinic and then turn East again."

Col. La Garde explained that only high-grade men are permitted to take the examinations conducted by the National Board of Medical Examiners, which was first established in 1915 by Dr. William Rodman of Philadelphia and is financed by the Rockefeller Foundation.

Men who pass the examinations are given the title of "Licentiate" and are to be recognized as among the leaders in their profession. Twenty per cent of those who have taken the examinations to date have failed, but this, according to Col. La Garde, is no discredit, for the examination is a particularly difficult one. There are 15 candidates now taking the examination in St. Louis.

Requirements of Candidates.

The members of the board will divide their time between St. Louis and Chicago during the present examinations, which will be concluded next Wednesday afternoon. In Chicago 33 candidates are taking the tests. In order to become eligible to take these examinations a candidate must have had a high school education, followed by at least two years of academic work at college, a regular medical course and at least one year of work in a hospital.

Surgeon-General Brastard of the navy is chairman of the National Board, but neither he nor Surgeon-General Ireland of the army were able to attend and are represented here by Admiral Stitt and Col. La Garde. Surgeon Ricker of the United States Public Health Service is expected here tomorrow or Sunday.

ROADS ORGANIZATION FORMED

Eldon (Mo.) Citizens to Work for State Highway.

Earnest Reeves, secretary of the Automobile Club of St. Louis, was the principal speaker at a good roads meeting at Eldon, Mo., last night. An organization was formed which will attempt to induce the State Highway Department to change the routing of the State Highway between Jefferson City and Springfield, to pass through Eldon, which it now misses by 12 miles.

Consideration of a road bond issue of $100,000 or more has been held up for some months by a local disagreement over the route.

Real Wonder-Worker for Wrinkled Faces

Those who have tried all sorts of so-called "wrinkle removers" in a vain effort to lose those unsightly lines, wrinkles, or even, can scarcely find words to express their delight with the wonderful axolite formula. Some have given it a trial. The success of the method is due not alone to its marvellous effectiveness—upon the deepest lines and crow's feet, as well as upon the very ones—but also to its simplicity of action and its entire harmlessness.

Simplicity is another commendable feature, for one need only dissolve a pinch of powdered axolite in a half cup of water and apply it to the face with a brush or the fingers.

It is not only the effect on wrinkles and creases that is so noticeable, but the face looks much younger, fresher, and more radiant. The lotions, so refreshing, is particularly adapted to tired faces.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A Railroad Worker's Views.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have read with interest your editorial of even date headed "Railroad Strike Threat," wherein you put the question to the organized railroad employes whether they are not satisfied with justice through which men get justice in all other relations of society, etc. By this I infer you mean arbitration. My answer, Mr. Editor, is that the railroad employes have been arbitrating their grievances with the Railroad Administration through Board of Railroad Wage and Working Conditions since last summer. At that time President Wilson stated the cycle of wage increases had been an average of 22 per cent in wages since the first of 1918, while living costs have tripled in that time. Relief must be had and that quickly.

The press and Director-General are insistent in the argument that further wage increases will mean increase in rates and be reflected in the H. C. L. In your last night's paper the Association of Railroad Executives brought out in their advertisement that a 25 per cent rate increase only added 5 1/2 cents to the freight on a suit of clothes from Chicago to Los Angeles, or a total of 22 cents, while the cost of the suit had increased $20. If all departments of the Government were functioning 100 per cent the public would never feel a further rate increase and if the railroad is compelled to continually be paying higher prices to landlords, tradesmen, public utilities, etc., which make up the public, why should the public not help to complete the cycle? I guess I was losing sight of the profiteer. Mr. Editor, I hope the question is settled quickly and with equity, but if not, there is only one other course, as arbitration has failed.

RAILROADER.

County Enumeration.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The enumeration of St. Louis County is being delayed some by weather conditions and sickness. Of the county's 46 enumeration districts of St. Louis County only 20 have been completed at this date. The information asked for by the enumerators is in no way to be used for taxation purposes. Enumerators request that farmers and truck farmers be ready with their reports when called upon.

HENRY C. BELL,
Supervisor of Census.

Against Training.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It does one good to see in the paper that the Democratic caucus goes on record against universal military training of youths. I am a Republican first, last and all of the time, but if the Reps. do not go on record against this training it is sure thing that the Democrats will get my vote. I am a father of six children, two of whom went to the war; one enlisted and the other was drafted. The drafted one died in camp here in the United States, due to exposure. The Government said he died of pneumonia, but his friends say that if they were housed half-way decent, instead of in tents and having to go out in all kinds of weather, such a thing would never have happened. The boy that enlisted, while being wholly in favor of the war, often tells us of the hardships he went through. He did not mind those in France, when under fire, but in the camps where a great deal better care could have been taken. My other four boys will all come in under the ages of 18 to 21, two of them being 18 and the others 20 and 21, respectively. I do not want to see any of these four boys go to training camps and maybe, at the end of training period, only three of them come back—dead, not. You can say what you want, but I know of these conditions, having a nephew that came back with the consumption, which he did not have when he left. It is safe to say that if the people at Washington follow out the wish of the people they represent that military training will not go through.

CROWDING THE CARS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The W. C. T. U. has now successfully stopped smoking on our street cars. I wonder if that is a larger menace to public health and comfort than the way the U. R. Co. is now packing the people in their "cattle cars"? Has any of the W. C. T. U. ladies had an occasion to use the service between 5 and 6 p. m. and had to hang on a step half way home, or packed in among a crowd of men? We doubt that they have. Why not do something about it?

ANTI-PANATIC.

ELIHU ROOT'S KEYNOTE.

In his speech at the opening of the New York Republican convention, Elihu Root advocated some good things—things upon which the majority of the people are practically agreed.

For instance, a budget and economy in governmental expenditures are imperatively necessary. The riot of expenditure which has survived the emergency of war must stop. There must be a checking up of useless but costly governmental activities and a reduction of the vast force of Government employees, which rose from 30,000 before the war to many times that number and stands at 110,000 two years after the fighting ceased.

As a corollary to reform in expenditures, reform in taxation is imperatively necessary. Not only must there be a reduction of taxes, but the modes of taxation seized upon to get the money for war purposes, regardless of consequences to business and the consumer, must be abandoned for scientific taxation. The excess profits tax is an unscientific and indefensible tax. It discourages production and business of all kinds and contributes to profiteering and high prices. If it is retained it ought to be limited to a fixed amount of business—say the business of last year—and taken off of all business exceeding that standard. This would put the manufacturers and business men to work to reduce the proportion of taxation to business and to make money for themselves. It would, through increased production, reduce prices.

We agree with Mr. Root that war restrictions of all kinds should be removed. With the sole limitation of incitement to crime and violence, free speech and free assemblage should be fully restored.

The trouble with Mr. Root, as with other political leaders, is that the programs they suggest generally stop with a statement of what ought to be done. They do not tell us how to do it. We know what ought to be done, but how do the leaders and the parties propose to do it? We need constructive, remedial measures. Generalities have no force.

Mr. Root's attack on President Wilson is mostly sound and fury, except that in one charge he has gone so far that in fairness he must go farther. He charges that the Senate's right to perform its duty to advise and consent or refuse to consent in the matter of the peace treaty "was challenged by the tremendous power of a President commanding civil and military subordinates and controlling the expenditure of billions of money. Senators were threatened if they did not submit their judgment to the presidential will."

All the powers conferred upon the President for war purposes, upon which Mr. Root expatiates in describing presidential autocracy, were conferred by Congress for the specific purpose of mobilizing and directing all the forces of the country to the winning of the war. The war was won. If the President misused these powers, his misuse is an issue; his administration is an issue, but the President's personality is not an issue.

Granting that he has been insistent, stubborn in his view that the treaty ought to be ratified as agreed upon; that he has used all the resources of tongue and pen and his influence as party leader to obtain his end—what President worthy of the office would not do the same? Granting that his methods have been unwise, what has his command of civil and military subordinates and his control of billions to do with the controversy? What threats did the President make and whom did he threaten? Did he surround the Capitol with a regiment of soldiers? Did he threaten Senators that they could not have any of the billions he controlled?

Mr. Root should be more specific or he should have kept silence. He should explain. His charge calls for impeachment or it is a piece of demagoguery unbecoming a statesman.

The issue of ratification, which Mr. Root supports, ought not to be confused with denunciations of Mr. Wilson's personality. The real question is, has the Senate sincerely and earnestly tried to arrive at a conclusion with regard to the treaty on its merits? Let the Senators ratify the treaty, with such reservations as they honestly think should be attached to it, and return it to the President. This is their duty, and they are free to do it.

Then the President must stand or fall on his own action. Denunciation of Mr. Wilson and talk about his autocratic methods are mere partisan camouflage.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL DISGRACE ENDED.

The last of the boys, nine of them, remaining at the old City Industrial School, Virginia avenue and Osage street, were taken yesterday to the new settlement at Bellefontaine and the old, out-of-date institution was closed forever.

It ought, of course, to have been closed years ago. It was a ramshackle, dusty, unsightly old building, totally lacking in the equipment and facilities that should be provided for future citizens who are the wards of the community. The new school is located on the fine bluffs directly overlooking the Missouri River, with fair acres extending on the landward side as far as the eye can reach. The new brick cottages have all the comforts and conveniences of a genuine home and the surroundings are such as to bring delight to any boy, whether the inmate of a household of wealth or one forced by circumstances to accept the city's guardianship.

It has taken the better part of a decade to rouse public sentiment and bring about the needed legislation for this change, an effort in which Mayor

A DEMOCRATIZED STANDARD OIL.

An increased wage scale, with shorter working hours, is to become effective March 1 at the Standard Oil Co.'s refinery at Wood River, Ill., and in several other of its plants. The agreement was reached in each instance by what is called the joint committee plan. As the name implies, such committees are made up of representatives of the employees and the company. Those committees are not empowered to pass finally upon questions. Their authority is limited to making recommendations to the company, which reserves the right to accept or reject. It is a matter of record, however, that since the plan was adopted last June the company has not exercised its right of veto but has approved all committee recommendations.

It is argued that the success of the plan proves the practicability of democracy in industry. Before acknowledging that claim conservative persons will want to see what happens when a committee's findings are rejected. The plan, it may be held, must survive that test before its title is perfected. On the contrary, it may be argued that the uninterrupted record of approval to the committee's recommendations is pretty good proof that the requests, in the company's judgment, have been reasonable and fair.

It may occasion more or less general surprise, too, that the Standard Oil Co. should lead the way in the practical democratization of industry. That corporation is so imperial in its resources and extent of power, so near to an industrial monarchy in popular conception, that it might be presumed to be the last, instead of among the first, to abandon the old order. Such a premise were faulty. Whatever may be said of Standard Oil, its pre-eminence efficiency has never been questioned. Age has not withered nor custom staled its infinite capacity. New times, new manners. So far from reversing itself, in keeping up with the procession, in even setting the pace, Standard Oil, in adopting the latest methods for adjusting industrial disputes, is running true to form.

THE GREATER MORGAN STREET.

Petitions for extending the width of Morgan street to 80 feet have been presented to the Public Service Board. The physical condition of the street now leaves so much to be desired and the certainty of betterment through an improvement of this kind is so obvious as to make this one of the most attractive of all proposed city plan changes. At Grand avenue, a dividing line on the map where the continuity of so many thoroughfares is interrupted, it is proposed to give Morgan street direct communication with Delmar avenue.

One broad, splendid thoroughfare running from Fourth street to far beyond the city limits being thus created, the logical thing would be to give one name to its entire extent.

THE KAISER'S EIGHTY-THREE VILLAS.

No information coming out of Germany is quite so significant of the continuing attachment of the German people to their erstwhile imperial master as that of the terms of the bill now before the Prussian Diet dealing with the property of the Hohenzollerns. When we consider that the Socialist Ebert Government is contemplating a capital tax, it is somewhat startling to learn that the Hohenzollern property is to be carefully preserved to the royal family.

Thus by the terms of the bill they will retain 53 villas and real estate plots, including homes in Potsdam, Berlin, Kiel and Ploen and castles and forests elsewhere in the country. Certain pieces of real estate and works of art are to be taken by the state, but at an appraised value of 100,000,000 marks. The royal fortune, hidden away in strong boxes, containing "very few war bonds," and amounting to 175,000,000 marks, is not touched.

The Kaiser's press agents long ago convinced the world of his pre-eminence position as a patron of art, evidenced by his establishment of royal theaters in Berlin, Hanover, Cassel and Wiesbaden, together with museums at various places. These institutions, it appears, provided sinecures for pensioners to the number of 105,000 persons, including court ladies as well as coachmen and lackeys, at a loss of millions of marks a year. The burden of this property is now considerably to be assumed by the state, together with the pensioners' pay roll.

So far as the private and personal property of the Hohenzollerns is concerned, it should be dealt with as any other private property, but title to the vast bulk of the imperial possessions inherited in the Kaiser, not personally but essentially as the head of the state. In such circumstances, by settled principles, it is assimilated to state property and as such devolves upon his successor. In this instance the German republic. But Prussia declines to avail itself of this right, and to the extent of the value of the property, transfers the burden to the German masses.

It is difficult to escape the suspicion that the Germans are not yet cured of their love of autocracy and that they still entertain the hope that the 83 villas may again house their former imperial occupant.

PEACE DAWNS AT LAST.

THE straw which still may break our backs
Is this: "Come, pay your income tax."

Not "Please," in which we might rejoice
For having something of a choice—

But that inexorable tone
Which chills us to the very bone.

We will have war—then lackaday
There is the fiddler we must pay!

Which, inasmuch as costs increase,
Must ultimately give us peace.

We may lack wit enough to think
Beyond this philosophic link;

We may not have the heart to feel
What the moralities reveal;

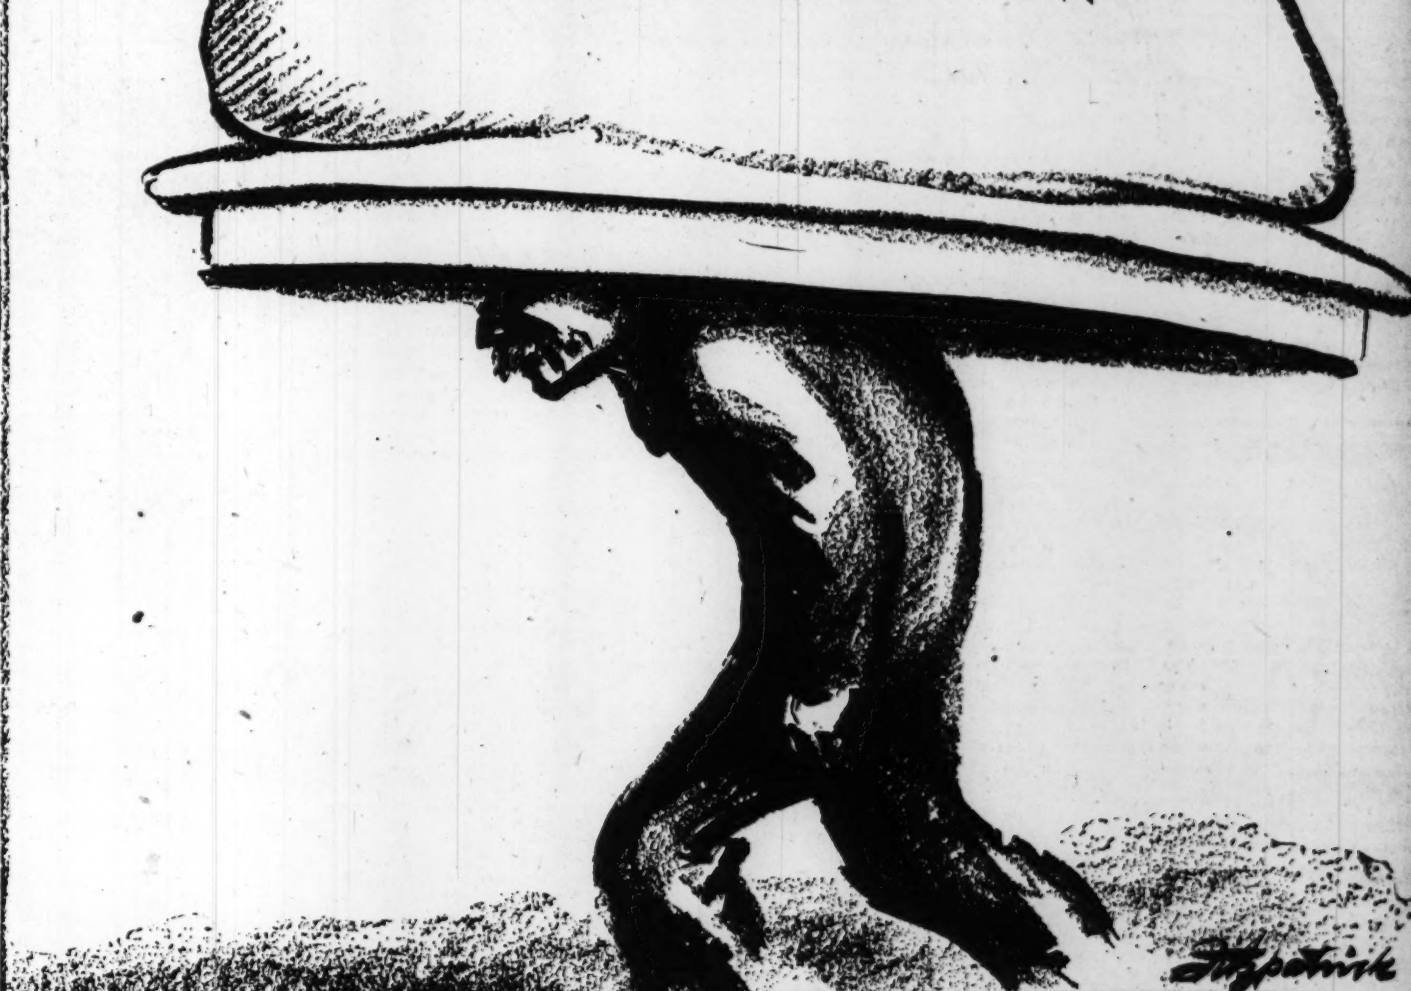

But once we find the going rough
Financially, we'll cry "Enough!"

The automobile business, which is able to hold shows all over town and get most of our money as fast as we make it, is characterized by a quality of which those of us not in the automobile business might make a note. This is the whoopla spirit, or the quality of cheer. It carries the conviction that business is booming. Whether it is booming or not it so seems both to us and to those whose enthusiasm creates the illusion. One learns a great deal about the psychology of business at the automobile show. Everybody beams. If someone forgets to beam he is speedily fired and sent off to some business which bears a sour face and is not long for this world. The effect of so much beaming upon one outside the spell of the automobile business is remarkable. One begins to take heart of this workaday life. What was not to be thought of before one went there begins to look easy. Money, though one's pockets do not contain any, appears to be abundant and easy to get. One goes home trying to induce one's wife to share one's buoyant vision of the unobscured future. It beats hell. That is what has made the automobile business. Who can say how many kinds of business might have enjoyed its great estate had they had the whoopla spirit, or the quality of cheer? People used to think Mr. Ford a cheerful idiot. Yet he gave us in time the national bird. Go to the automobile show, thou gloom, and learn the value of joy!

After reading about Mr. Hoover's youth, which is revealed to us with the usual pictures in one of the magazines, one cannot withhold comment upon the influence of parents. Mr. Hoover lost his parents when he was at a very tender age. Subsequently he was passed from one relative to another. After touring much of the country in this fashion he finally escaped from one of his grandfathers in Oregon, and thereafter remained at large. Your great man—and they tell us Mr. Hoover impressed Paris as a great man, "that weary Titan of the peace conference"—usually starts out as an orphan. Julius Caesar, whose name is called the greatest in history, was an orphan. Most of those looming up in the coming presidential race suffer by comparison with Mr. Hoover. We have not inquired into this, but it is probably because they were all raised by their parents. Parents are a terrible handicap to children. Socrates proposed giving everybody a chance by not having it known whose children were whose. He became so unanswerable that the Greeks finally poisoned him. However, his spirit goes on.

IRISH ELECTIONS AND BONDS.

From the New York Evening Post.

THE municipal elections in Ireland give Sinn Fein its expected opportunity to show what it can do with control of most of the local government bodies. Without that it has wasted increasingly strong. British papers quoted Dublin manufacturers as asking, in the recent campaign, for permits for motor lorries, whether they were under the Government of Liberty Hall or Dublin Castle. Now in Dublin the Sinn Fein will hold 41 of the 80 Corporation seats, while Labor, which since Larkin and Connolly has been co-operating with Sinn Fein, has 16. Of Cork 36 seats, the combined Sinn Fein and Labor tickets have carried 30. Belfast has had 114 seats filled with 52 Unionists and 8 Nationalists, but now Sinn Fein and Labor cut their representation to 37 and 5, respectively. How far will Sinn Fein now defy Lord French and the British Government? Sinn Fein abstention from the Parliament at Westminster is a dramatic gesture. Sinn Fein locally in control can do much to paralyze economic everyday relations with the British.

The new situation will give British statesmen the more anxiety in that the breach between the central and much of the local government is already so wide. Popular hostility has made it necessary to concentrate local police in central barracks for their own protection; outside Ulster life and property have often been unprotected; civil law in many places is replaced with martial law. The municipal corporations may vote allegiance to the republic, refuse to do any bidding of the regular Dublin Government, and by blocking the rates even produce financial chaos. The British can meet such a sharp presentation of the issue with more force, or with a renewed effort to appeal for union and better feeling. Some observers believe that a part of Sinn Fein's recent strength derives from moderates who have joined that they may check its excesses from within. These men, the Unionists, the Nationalists, the neutrals, may yet be rallied around a constructive program of compromise and conciliation. Many converts to republicanism have been made within two years, and made by a removable bitterness. The London Times correspondent thinks that faith in England is bankrupt. Lloyd George's new plan he finds generally regarded as unwelcome. But an earnest and timely effort to push it may restore the faith lost through endless delays.

Meanwhile the strength of the Sinn Fein issue is admittedly presented in this country. We see a bond issue of $10,000,000 authorized by the Dublin Aug. 20 last, being floated by enthusiasts eager to place their names on "A Roll of Honor of the Irish Race." For the politicians who exploit this enthusiasm for their base ends we can have nothing but condemnation. We know well that no love of Ireland has led many Senators to approve of "self-determination" for its people, and many Mayors to offer the "Irish President" the freedom of their cities, but a calculated pandering to the Irish vote. Their barefaced selfishness is an insult to those they pretend to aid. But we can applaud the sincere sentiment of many, their genuine hope for a more contented, prosperous future for Ireland, and wish that Anglo-Irish statesmanship would soon give scope for its expression in a manner free from racial or religious animosity.

Flyweight Wilde Stops Russell in Seventh Round

Stage-Fright Apparently Handicaps Eastern Boy, Who Is Helpless Before Briton.

TOWEL THROWN INTO RING

American's Manager Acknowledges Defeat to Prevent Unnecessary Punishment.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Jimmy Wilde, England's wonderful flyweight, proved himself a great fighter last night when he punched Mickey Russell into submission in seven rounds at the arena in Jersey City.

When the end came Russell was hanging helplessly over the top rope, with his back turned to avoid punishment. Referee Harry Ertle had just stopped the bout when Scotty Monteth, Russell's manager, tossed a towel high in the air as a token of surrender.

Wilde found little or no opposition in Russell. The Newark boy seemed to be thoroughly scared, frightened and made little or no attempt to defend himself, much less fight back.

Russell took a fearful beating in degged fashion without living up to his ability as a really good fighter. Wilde was never in danger and simply punched his way to a hollow victory. He tired, during the bout, in his efforts to punch Russell to the floor, but it must be said that when the end came he seemed fresher than when he started.

It was a humane thing to stop it when that action was taken. Another blow might have injured the defeated boy.

Transportation over glassed streets had at lot to do with holding down the attendance.

After the fight Wilde learned that a writ of attachment of his share of the gate receipts had been served by George Dwyer of New York, who claims that Wilde owes him $3000 for services as his manager in America.

MISSOURI BASKET TEAM WINS ITS 14TH STRAIGHT VALLEY CONFERENCE GAME

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 20.—Missouri University last night again defeated Kansas University in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game here. The score was 21 to 13, and it was Missouri's fourteenth straight victory.

Both teams started well, guarding closely and playing fast, but the Tigers soon were on top and won the game at the end of the first period was 14 to 6.

The second half was rather rough, and Reddy of Kansas twice was injured. Scott and Wacker starred for the Tigers, and Uhlir and the Jayhawks.

EIGHT WOMEN SWIMMERS TO COMPETE FOR TITLE

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 20.—Eight of the best known women swimmers in the country are entered in the National Junior 100-yard championship for women, which will be held here tonight, under the auspices of the American Athletic Union. Most prominent are the Smith sisters, Eleanor and Ruth, of New York, and Marie Curtis of Detroit. Five other events are on the program.

Entries in a 100-yard free style race and a back stroke handicap for women include Ethelda Bleibtrey, holder of several records, Charlotte Boyle of New York, and the Smith twins.

The Smith twins and Marie Curtis are also among those to compete in a fancy diving contest.

A 100-yard dash for men, in which Hal Vollmer of New York will compete, and a fancy diving contest for men complete the program.

Wilde, Not Herman, to Blame For Failure of Title Match; U.S. Champion Ready for Go

St. Louis Representative of World's Bantam Champion Trying to Arrange to Bring British and American Fighters Together, Possibly in St. Louis—$20,000 Needed.

By John E. Wray.

PRESSURE is being exerted on the flyweight champion of England, Jimmy Wilde, and his representative, David Hughes, to arrange an eight-round, no-decision boxing bout, to take place in St. Louis preferably. The Post-Dispatch was informed yesterday that Herman's manager is urging the Briton to hearken to the American demand for a battle between the English and American champions, instead of reserving the contest for England.

Herman's St. Louis representative said yesterday that negotiations with Wilde thus far had met with a refusal, on the ground that an English promoter had Wilde's signature to a contract to meet Herman in London, when the visiting boxer returns home. He added that this promoter (Cochran), the same who has been promoting the fight between the two champions, is now in London, and that Herman is waiting for him to return to St. Louis.

"We consented to this," Herman's agent stated, "but with the proviso that if Herman fought in England an American referee must judge the contest. And we made it plain that this condition was final."

Wilde found little or no opposition in Russell. The Newark boy seemed to be thoroughly scared, frightened and made little or no attempt to defend himself, much less fight back.

Russell took a fearful beating in degged fashion without living up to his ability as a really good fighter. Wilde was never in danger and simply punched his way to a hollow victory. He tired, during the bout, in his efforts to punch Russell to the floor, but it must be said that when the end came he seemed fresher than when he started.

It was a humane thing to stop it when that action was taken. Another blow might have injured the defeated boy.

After the fight Wilde learned that a writ of attachment of his share of the gate receipts had been served by George Dwyer of New York, who claims that Wilde owes him $3000 for services as his manager in America.

Both teams started well, guarding closely and playing fast, but the Tigers soon were on top and won the game at the end of the first period was 14 to 6.

RED STICKS WIN FROM BLUE CLUBS HOCKEY TEAM

The Red Sticks defeated the Blue Clubs, 3-1, in a hockey game played at the Winter Garden last night. Kansas to Show Wares Against Pikers Tonight

Lawrence Quintet Making Its First Appearance in St. Louis Since 1917.

The University of Kansas basketball team today will make its first call at Francis Gymnasium since 1917, when it reports for a two-game series with the Washington University five. The Jayhawks left Columbia last night after a disastrous two-night stand against the University of Missouri, prospective champions. The Pikers no longer have a chance to win the championship. If they should win their series from Kansas, while Missouri dropped its four remaining contests to Washington and the Kansas Aggies, the Aggies would win the title. The Pikers are now in a hospital here, in St. Louis, and are being treated for their injuries.

Kansas has played uncertain basketball all year. In its first series against the Pikers it lost the game by a long score, but in the other was defeated by only two points. The team looked bad against the Aggies, and then performed brilliantly on its northern trip.

The Pikers have been practicing all week, but have not been showing any unusual form. On Wednesday night the "scrub" ran all around them and won by a safe margin. However, it is expected that Coach Rutherford will start with the same lineup as played in the last Oklahoma game.

The line-up: Washington, Position, Kansas. Macdonald, Right forward, Kansas. Nelson, Left forward, Kansas. Hurd, Right guard, Kansas. Lippert, Center, Kansas. Krahe, Left guard, Kansas. Russell, Left guard, Kansas.

Soldan to Play W. U. Freshmen. The Washington University freshman basketball team will meet at Francis Gymnasium at 4 p. m. today.

The Washington players have practically clinched the scholastic championship and should be able to give the Pikers a hard tussle.

Soldan Defeats Principals. The Soldan High School first and second teams defeated the Principals of the Principals Academy's teams, at the latter school's court, last night. The first team won, 20 to 17; while the high school reserves won 16 to 14. An extra five minute period was necessary to decide the second game.

MISS DUNLAP SETS NEW RECORD WINNING RACE

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Everett McGowan of St. Paul last night led by 40 points his closest rival in the races for the international amateur skating championship being held here.

His victory in the two-mile senior event yesterday made his capture of the championship almost certain. Joe Moore of Lake Placid, former metropolitan champion, who won the senior 440-yards dash and finished third in the two-mile race, is second in points, with a total of 80.

Miss Rose Johnson of Chicago leads in the women's international title, with 100 points. She was defeated by Miss E. Dunlap, also of Chicago, in the 440-yard dash yesterday. Miss Dunlap established a world's record in the 440-yard dash, winning the event. She now has a total of 50 points.

BENNY KAUFF ARRAIGNED ON STOLEN AUTO CHARGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Benny Kauff, center fielder of the New York Giants, was held in $1000 bail for trial when he was arraigned today before Judge Waughman in General Sessions Court on a charge of grand larceny and criminally receiving a stolen automobile. Kauff provided bail and was released.

The bailpayer produced a bill of sale dated Oct. 27, 1919, and told Judge Kauff that the machine here was stolen yesterday. The prosecution contends that the machine was stolen Dec. 8, Kauff was in the automobile accessory business until recently.

U. S. NOT TO SEND NET TEAM TO OLYMPIAD IF DATES ARE NOT CHANGED

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The United States will not send a lawn tennis team to the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, unless the Belgian committee will advance the dates now fixed for Aug. 21 to July.

This decision was reached here yesterday at a conference of the representatives of the United States Lawn Tennis Association and members of the American Olympic committee.

According to the official program received in this country on Wednesday, the Olympic lawn tennis tournament will be played from Aug. 15 to 23. It is made up of five events: Singles and doubles, for both men and women, and mixed doubles. The matches will be played on clay courts.

Following the conference, the Belgian committee was advised by cable that an American team could not take part unless the tournament were played early in July.

It was explained that an American team and possibly an Australian team would compete in the English lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon on June 20 to 30, and that these teams as well as an English combination might enter the Antwerp tournament if the date were advanced to July 5.

TWO HAVANA TEAMS ARE ENTERED IN TENNIS EVENT

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 20.—While scattered entries continued to arrive yesterday from all parts of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba, it was estimated last night that between 850 and 900 five-men teams will compete in the American Bowling Congress which opens here March 10.

The entries closed Wednesday night, but those in the mails at that time will be accepted. This is the largest entry list in the history of the congress. Toledo holds the former record, with 785 teams.

Among the late entries received today were 20 teams from Ottawa and Toronto, Canada; two teams from Havana, Cuba, and three from Tampico, Mexico.

Ed Bogart, Sought By 7 Clubs, Signs Cardinal Contract

Regina Outfielder Led Western Canada League in Home Runs and Stolen Bases.

Ed Bogart, who turned in a batting average of .308 for 32 games with the Regina club of the Western Canada League in 1919, signed a contract with the Cardinals yesterday. Bogart is an outfielder, 23 years old, and said by baseball men who have seen him perform to be a great prospect.

Bogart, who resides in San Francisco, is a left-handed batter. He led the Western Canada circuit in stolen bases with a total of 43. He also was the leading home run getter of the circuit.

Seven major league clubs were in the field trying to purchase the Regina meadowman.

It was announced at Cardinal headquarters yesterday that nothing had been heard from Jack Fournier, the first-batter recently obtained from the Los Angeles club. Manager Rickey wrote to Fournier immediately upon his return from the Chicago meeting.

STECHER AND LONDOS TO WRESTLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Joe Stecher, world's champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler, will defend his title here tonight with Jim Londos of Greece. One fall will decide the match.

They Who Copy Our Name Unwittingly Praise Us

It was a wise man who said "imitation is the sincerest flattery." One who knew no COPY ever equals the ORIGINAL.

Twenty-three years ago we established our business, small in capital but high in ideals. Today we are the largest tailoring establishment in St. Louis making Suits and Overcoats exclusively for men.

Our established leadership in garment making, together with our enormous stock of over 1000 patterns in different sizes, makes this the most popular low-priced men's tailoring concern in the city. These facts and our wonderful success cause the name "McKnight" to be used whenever possible by competitors.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

PUTTING PEP INTO THEM.

They're modernizing Gilbert's plays—to brighten them a bit and make them sparkle, so to speak, with 1920 wit. They find, they say, it much improves his late Victorian chaff to put a little rough stuff in, which always gets a laugh; and doubtless when they play the bard, as now and then they do, they'll try to bring him up to date and gag his dramas, too.

For instance, when the jealous Moor fair Desdemona croaks, King Lear at Mistress Goneril will shake his frosty locks. And, winking at the audience, snirk "I'm crazy like a fox." While Richard will come charging in, cast down his broken sword, lift up his hands to Heaven and shout, "My kingdom for a Ford!"

"This Denmark," Hamlet will observe, "is more than I can brook. It thinks that I am dippy—yet it fell for Doctor Cook. Ophelia, I'm not mad at you, although, of course, I'm mad; Horatio, bring the Oulja board, I want to talk to dad." And when he gazes at the ghost, in anger he will cry: "I can't have spirits in the house—the country has gone dry!"

When Portia sits to hear the case of Shylock's ancient grudge, The aged money king will rise and say, "Good-morning, Judge." And when she says his pound of flesh is held a bit too high, "It isn't half so high as beef," old Shylock will reply. And thus, with merry quip and jest, up to date and clever, they'll give old Shakspeare's plays such pep that they'll endure forever.

Pay Day.

The workman was digging. The wayfarer of the inquisitive turn of mind stopped for a moment to look on.

"My man," said the wayfarer at length, "what are you digging for?" The workman looked up. "Money," he replied. "Money!" ejaculated the amazed wayfarer. "And when do you expect to strike it?"

"On Saturday," replied the workman, as he resumed operations.—London Tit-Bits.

Good Reason.

"Why did you give that tramp the dime?"
